Ontario Ontario. Legislative Assembly,1883 Making Gender Michelle Wyndham-West,2023-08-31 Making Gender endeavours to understand how the HPV vaccine became gendered within the Canadian policy landscape when the virus is gender blind and is linked to cancer in all genders and how women s experiences with this gendered risk have been folded into their vaccine decision making Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork and archival research Michelle Wyndham West explores the creation and circulation of gendered risk as it was deployed in pharmaceutical and policy discourses surrounding the roll out of the HPV vaccine The book contextualizes the background for how gendered risk was mediated by two groups of women mothers negotiating the vaccine for their daughters in school based immunization programs and university students who experienced frequent HPV infections The book explores these women s efforts to be good mothers and strong young women entering adulthood who felt vulnerable in sexual health negotiation As a result Making Gender reveals how vaccine decision making took an ontological form as an inherently social and cultural process embedded in women s experiences Report of the Minister of Education ,1883 Sessional Papers Ontario. Assembly,1883 What the World Might Look Like Susie O'Brien,2024-04-18 The idea of resilience is everywhere these days offering a framework for thriving in volatile times Dominant resilience stories share an attachment to a mythologized past thought to hold clues for navigating a future that is understood to be full of danger These stories also uphold values of settler colonialism and white supremacy What the World Might Look Like examines the way resilience thinking has come to dominate the settler colonial imagination and explores alternative approaches to resilience writing that instead offer decolonial models of thought The book traces settler colonial resilience stories to the rise of resilience science in the 1970s and 1980s illustrating how the discipline supports the projects of white supremacy and colonialism Working to unravel the blanket of common sense that shrouds the idea of resilience the book is equally cautious of settler colonial antiresilience stories that invoke the idea of death as an antidote to unbearable life Susie O'Brien argues that although the dominant narratives of resilience are problematic resilience itself is neither inherently good nor inherently bad Appreciating the significance of resilience stories requires asking what worlds and what communities they are meant to preserve Looking at the fiction of Alexis Wright David Chariandy and Leanne Betasamosake Simpson O'Brien points to the potential of Black and Indigenous thinking around resilience to figure decolonial possibilities for planetary flourishing Exposing the complexities and limits of resilience What the World Might Look Like questions the concept of resilience highlighting how Black and Indigenous novelists can offer different decolonial ways of thinking about and with resilience to imagine things otherwise
