The Ruptures of American Capital Grace Kyungwon Hong, Universality is a dangerous concept according to Grace Kyungwon Hong one that has contributed to the rise of the U S nation state that privileges the propertied individual However African American Asian American and Chicano people experience the same stretch of city sidewalk with varying degrees of safety visibility and surveillance The Ruptures of American Capital examines two key social formations women of color feminism and racialized immigrant women s culture in order to argue that race and gender are contradictions within the history of U S capital that should be understood not as monolithic but as marked by its crises Hong shows how women of color feminism identified ways in which nationalist forms of capital such as the right to own property were repressive The Ruptures of American Capital demonstrates that racialized immigrant women s culture has brought to light contested modes of incorporation into consumer culture Interweaving discussion of U S political economy with literary analyses including readings from Booker T Washington to Jessica Hagedorn Hong challenges the individualism of the United States and the fetishization of difference that is one of the markers of globalization Grace Kyungwon Hong is assistant professor of English and Asian American studies at the University of Wisconsin Madison

Filthy Fictions Monica Chiu, 2004-01-20 Filthy Fictions addresses Asian American literature by women to explore and explode the sedimented and solidified meanings we have created about Asian Americans and dirt through dialogues that not only cross disciplinary and institutional formations and borders but also question the very borders and territories upon which these arguments may be founded Expertly questioning the construction of the ethnic body the book discusses critical discourses in ethnic and feminist studies around the topic of identity re production and transnational representation

Strange Fruit of the Black Pacific Vince Schleitwiler, 2017-01-24 Set between the rise of the U S and Japan as Pacific imperial powers in the 1890s and the aftermath of the latter's defeat in World War II Strange Fruit of the Black Pacific traces the interrelated migrations of African Americans Japanese Americans and Filipinos across U S domains Offering readings in literature blues and jazz culture film theatre journalism and private correspondence Vince Schleitwiler considers how the collective yearnings and speculative destinies of these groups were bound together along what W E B Du Bois called the world belting color line The links were forged by the paradoxical practices of race making in an aspiring empire benevolent uplift through tutelage alongside overwhelming sexualized violence which together comprise what Schleitwiler calls imperialism's racial justice This process could only be sustained through an ongoing training of perception in an aesthetics of racial terror through rituals of racial and colonial violence that also provide the conditions for an elusive countertraining With an innovative prose style Strange Fruit of the Black Pacific pursues the poetic and ethical challenge of reading or learning how to read the black and Asian literatures that take form and flight within the fissures of imperialism's racial justice Through startling reinterpretations of such canonical writers as James Weldon Johnson Nella Larsen Toshio Mori and Carlos Bulosan alongside considerations of unexpected figures such as the musician Robert Johnson and the playwright Eulalie Spence Schleitwiler seeks to reactivate the radical potential of the Afro Asian imagination through graceful meditations on its representations of failure loss and overwhelming violence
