The Poems of Optatian Linda Jones Hall, 2024-01-11 For the first time the poems and accompanying letters of Publilius Optatianus Porfyrius Optatian are published here with a translation and detailed commentary along with a full introduction to Optatian's work during this period Optatian was sent into exile by Constantine sometime after the Emperor's ascent to power in Rome in 312 AD Hoping to receive pardon Optatian sent a gift of probably twenty design poems to Constantine around the time of the ruler's twentieth anniversary 325-326 AD To enable the reader to experience the multiple messages of the poems the Latin text is presented near the English translation with any related design close by Some poems laid out on a grid of up to 35 letters across and down have an interwoven poem marking key letters in the primary poem thereby revealing a highlighted image Some designs include the Chi Rho or numerals created from V's and X's to mark imperial anniversaries Other previously unrecognised designs seem to represent senatorial imperial military or bureaucratic motifs or to derive from coin images Shape poems representing a water organ an altar and a panpipe reveal their relevance immediately The introduction and commentary elucidate literary allusions from over 100 authors lines from Vergil Ovid Lucan Silius Italicus Statius and lesser known writers abound and mythological references mostly to the Muses and Apollo Optatian's prestige as an official in both Greece and Rome is well attested these poems mark Optatian as a fascinating writer of his time holding onto the classical past while acknowledging Christian symbolism Ocean at the Window Albert Tezla,1980 Poetry and the 3-11 Curriculum Virginia Bower,2022-11-01 Poetry can enable learners to engage learn and have fun whatever their cognitive linguistic or social levels and this book provides a great many examples of how this might be achieved This exciting and innovative text provides a wide range of ideas for using poetry to enhance the early years and primary curricula and therefore the learning experience of all children Each chapter contains ideas for pedagogy and practice underpinned by research and classroom experience ensuring that practitioners will come away feeling much more confident to teach this genre and better enjoy poetry themselves Throughout there are discussions around specific pedagogies and practices relating to the use of poetry across the curriculum as well as resources including a wide range of poems from diverse countries and cultures and poems in different languages and activities which can immediately be used in the classroom Ideas are provided in terms of how poems can be employed in different subject areas to introduce or reinforce concepts engage children in more challenging concepts ensure that lessons are fun and engaging and develop children's awareness of other people and places beyond their immediate experience This book is an extremely powerful combination of informed discussion drawing on ideas from different theoretical perspectives including recent findings from neuroscience and practical suggestions for every classroom Armed with this text practitioners will not only have a very strong idea of how to use poetry to enhance their curriculum but also why this is such a compelling genre Hope at Sea Teresa Shewry,2015-09-16 As far back as Thomas More's Utopia and Francis Bacon's New Atlantis the Pacific Ocean has inspired literary creations of promising worlds Hope at Sea asks how literary writers have more recently conceived the future of ocean living In doing so it provides a new perspective on art and imagination in the face of enormous environmental change Drawing together ecocriticism theories of hope and literary analysis this book explores how literary writers evoke hope in engaging with environmental upheavals that are reshaping life in the Pacific Ocean Teresa Shewry considers contemporary poetry short stories novels art and journalistic pieces from Australia New Zealand Hawai'i and other ocean sites examining their imaginative accounts of present life and future living in places where humans coexist with environmental loss rivers that no longer reach the sea dwindling populations of ocean life the effects of nuclear weapons testing and more These works are connected by their views of a future that includes hope Until now hope has never been theorized in a direct sustained way in ecocriticism Hope at Sea makes an argument for hope as a lens for creative and critical confrontation with environmental disruptions and the resulting sense of loss It also reflects on the critical approaches that hope as an analytic category opens up for the study of environmental literature With hope as a critical perspective Shewry develops a method for reading environmental literature literary writers create new ways to apprehend existing environmental realities and craft stories about seas forests cities and rivers that could be not as literal plans but as ways of imagining promising lives in the present world and in the world to come

Writing Pie Corbett,1997-07 This is a bank of ideas designed to help teachers to develop the writing of primary school pupils It is concerned mainly with the compositional aspects of writing rather than spelling handwriting and punctuation and consists of five main sections dealing with writing stories and poems writing for information writing from reading writing from personal experience and redrafting and proof reading

The Common Core Companion: Booster Lessons, Grades K-2 Janiel Wagstaff,2015-09-02 You can find hundreds of literacy lessons in hundreds of places but none of them will do for students what the ones in this book do What s the magic bullet Potent integration Divided into five weeklong learning sequences the 50 lessons span the ELA standards bringing a Monday through Friday clarity to the sometimes mysterious process of skill building through demonstrations and practice Follow each sequence and week by week you ll build the instructional potency to help students achieve a year s worth of growth as you integrate Writing Narratives with Identifying Sensory Words in Text Research with Identifying Topic and Details Opinion Writing with Close Reading for Text Evidence Comparing and Contrasting with Publishing Using Digital Tools Informative Writing with Use of Text Features Each of the 50 lessons is eminently dippable But if you want to do more extended instructional planning there are lots of additional tools including lists of mentor texts and If Then and Extending the Work charts within the book and on the companion website www.corwin.com/commoncorecompanion
