The authors present each case from a holistic perspective with practical applications to improve activities of daily living as well as a social interactive perspective to create a complete picture of each case. When treating people with aphasia, clinicians are encouraged to consider not only the language domains but also the cognitive domains of executive functions, attention, memory, and visuospatial skills. Each disorder is then introduced in a case-based format that includes a case scenario with their photo, a functional analysis of the patient, critical thinking learning activities, a diagnostic profile, the Target Model, treatment considerations, application of the A-FROM model for patients' goals, and special features. Special features include Test Your Knowledge sections based on patient scenarios along with an answer key, a Quick Reference Diagnostic Chart for acquired language disorders, and a Functional Communication Connections Worksheet for treatment planning purposes.
