

Sample Lab Report

Abstract

Modern scientific papers typically begin with a short abstract summarizing the entire project. This sample lab report includes all the elements present in a modern scientific paper, organized in a fashion appropriate for introductory astronomy lab reports.

Introduction

This sample lab report illustrates a suitable form for writing a scientific paper. The introduction presents a basic statement of the problem to be solved. It may be to test a hypothesis, explore some phenomenon or test new experimental techniques. The present "hypothesis" is that it is possible to illustrate how to write a lab report. The report begins with a Title giving a succinct, one-line identification of the project, the Author or Authors actually responsible for the report and the author's Affiliation, which in this case will include the course and lab section. For Astronomy labs, each student must write his or her own report. The body of the report should include an Introduction, a description of the Procedure (or Measurements or Observations), an Analysis (or Results) section, a section describing the Error Analysis and a Discussion or Conclusions section. There may also be an Acknowledgements paragraph, mentioning people who may have provided data or other help for the project. In most scientific papers there will be a list of References that may have been used in the preparation of the report. Finally, for Astronomy lab reports, the original Data pages should be attached to the report.

Procedure

The body of the report should begin with a systematic discussion of the project. The equipment should be described, and each observational or experimental or computational step should be discussed. A table or figure summarizing the data may be appropriate. It may not be necessary to include all of the data in this section, but the essential data used in the analysis section should be described completely. Figures or sketches of the instrumental setup or other illustrations are likely to be helpful.

After reading the procedure section, the reader should have a clear idea of what was actually done in the project. The goal of this section is to justify that the hypothesis described in the introduction has really been tested.

Analysis

Usually there will be a computational section or perhaps a discussion that brings together the pieces of the project to derive the final results. The results may be partly in the form

Quality Assurance in the Analytical Chemistry Laboratory D. Brynn Hibbert, 2007-03-29 Analytical chemical results touch everyones lives can we eat the food do I have a disease did the defendant leave his DNA at the crime scene should I invest in that gold mine When a chemist measures something how do we know that the result is appropriate What is fit for purpose in the context of analytical chemistry Many manufacturing and service companies have embraced traditional statistical approaches to quality assurance and these have been adopted by analytical chemistry laboratories However the right chemical answer is never known so there is not a direct parallel with the manufacture of ball bearings which can be measured and assessed The customer of the analytical services relies on the quality assurance and quality control procedures adopted by the laboratory It is the totality of the QA effort perhaps first brought together in this text that gives the customer confidence in the result QA in the Analytical Chemistry Laboratory takes the reader through all aspects of QA from the statistical basics and quality control tools to becoming accredited to international standards The latest understanding of concepts such as measurement uncertainty and metrological traceability are explained for a working chemist or her client How to design experiments to optimize an analytical process is included together with the necessary statistics to analyze the results All numerical manipulation and examples are given as Microsoft Excel spreadsheets that can be implemented on any personal computer Different kinds of interlaboratory studies are explained and how a laboratory is judged in proficiency testing schemes is described Accreditation to ISO 17025 or OECD GLP is nearly obligatory for laboratories of any pretension to quality Here the reader will find an introduction to the requirements and philosophy of accreditation Whether completing a degree course in chemistry or working in a busy analytical laboratory this book is a single source for an introduction into quality assurance
