Food and Drug Administration, Laboratory Analysis of Product Samples Needs to be More Timely United States. General Accounting Office, 1986 A primary responsibility of the Food and Drug Administration FDA is to protect the American consumer from adulterated or misbranded violative products The role of FDA's field laboratories in accomplishing this mission is critical They test numerous samples of products for possible violations When violative products are identified

FDA takes regulatory actions including seizures to remove them from the market Removing violative products from the market through seizure takes time As the time frame for action increases so does the amount of violative products reaching the consumer This report discusses 1 the timeliness of field laboratories in processing product samples to determine if they are violative and 2 measures that can be implemented to bring about improvements Google Tools Meets Middle
