Section B [20 marks]

Text 2

Refer to Text 2 on page 3 of the Insert for Questions 5-13.

- 1 The highway stretched ahead of us, a seemingly endless grey ribbon. The man seated opposite me – a yellow-haired foreigner in sandals and khaki shorts – had struck up a conversation with the young Chinese man next to me. On the floor of the bus, under the foreigner's feet, was a canvas bag bulging with maps; he was, apparently, an engineer from Denmark and was full of questions. He wanted to know all about Chinese computers and keyboards. He wanted to know what the Chinese man did for a living. ("A student," he replied.) Out came a map from the engineer's bag. Now, with pen poised, he demanded to know more. He wanted to know about methods of road construction, systems of irrigation, types of farming.... 01

Chinese government in 2020 and has since fundamentally transformed the political landscape of the former British colony. The book explores how Hong Kong's transformation in governance, law, education, and civil society has amounted to one of the most significant episodes of autocratization in the world in recent years. Each chapter provides theoretical and methodological approaches to capture the different dimensions of the influence of the National Security Law on Hong Kong politics. The trends discussed in the book are of global relevance to the discussion of the current trends of increasing autocratization, and this provides insights into the institutional transformations and the adaptive response from Hong Kongers. Also, the extra-territorial application of China's National Security Law has inevitable global implications, which makes it important to investigate how the Hong Kong overseas diasporas are responding to these challenges. The book is an indispensable resource for scholars and experts on Hong Kong politics, China's policy toward Hong Kong, international policymakers, journalists, students, and those who are interested in the growing global trend of autocratization.

Proceedings On Responsive & Resilient Quality Education Dr. Rosamma Philip, Expectations and Aspirations Safaa El Tayeb El-Kogali, Caroline Krafft, 2019-01-30. Education, which has been at the heart of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region's history and civilizations for centuries, has a large untapped potential to contribute to human capital, well-being, and wealth. The region has invested heavily in education for decades, but it has not been able to reap the benefits of its investments. Despite a series of reforms, MENA has remained stuck in a low-learning, low-skills level. Expectations and Aspirations: A New Framework for Education in the Middle East and North Africa identifies four key sets of tensions that are holding back education in the region: credentials and skills, discipline and inquiry, control and autonomy, and tradition and modernity. These tensions are shaped by society and are reflected in classrooms. If they are not addressed, MENA will continue to operate at a level below its potential. This report outlines a new framework with a three-pronged approach that can help address these tensions and unleash the potential of education in MENA: a concerted push for learning that starts early for all children, regardless of background, with qualified and motivated educators and that leverages technology; uses modern approaches and monitors learning outcomes; a stronger pull for skills by all stakeholders in the labor market and society that involves coordinated multisystem reforms within and beyond the education system; and a new pact for education at the national level with a unified vision, shared responsibilities, and accountabilities. Education is not just the responsibility of the education system; it is everyone's business. The push-pull and pact framework offers an opportunity for MENA to move forward, to reclaim its heritage of a learned region, and to meet the expectations and aspirations of its people. The current situation in MENA requires a renewed focus on education, not just as a national priority for economic growth and social development, but as a national emergency for stability, peace, and prosperity.

Possible Worlds Theory and Readers' Emotional Responses to Literature Megan Mansworth, 2025-09-18. This book develops a cognitive stylistic exploration of readers' emotional experiences of literature. Adopting Possible Worlds Theory as a framework, the volume constructs a stylistic analysis of some of the ways in which novels elicit readers emotions A typology of past present and future textual actual and possible worlds is formulated to frame analysis of three novels A Fine Balance by Rohinton Mistry Revolutionary Road by Richard Yates and The Trick Is to Keep Breathing by Janice Galloway The author integrates close stylistic analysis with the use of empirical data drawn from reader interviews and online reader reviews The analysis of these diverse 20th century novels works to show the utility of the typology for analysis formulated for this book as well as to demonstrate the value of incorporating empirical reader data in analysis of the ways in which novels may affect readers emotions
