exploring places in new and rewarding ways Afterlives of Ancient Rock-cut Monuments in the Near East Jonathan Ben-Dov, Felipe Rojas, 2021-09-27 This book concerns the ancient rock cut monuments carved throughout the Near East paying particular attention to the fate of these monuments in the centuries after their initial production As parts of the landscapes in which they were carved they acquired new meanings in the cultural memory of the people living around them The volume joins numerous recent studies on the reception of historical texts and artefacts exploring the peculiar affordances of these long lasting and often salient monuments The volume gathers articles by archeologists art historians and philologists covering the entire Near East from Iran to Lebanon and from Turkey to Egypt It also analyzes long lasting textual traditions that aim to explain the origins and meaning of rock cut monuments and other related carvings The Remains of the Past and the Invention of Archaeology in Roman Anatolia Felipe Rojas, 2019-10-17 Examines how people in the Roman past thought about even earlier ruins and material remains it examines incidents that could be described as archaeology in antiquity Water and Power in Past Societies Emily Holt, 2018-05-01 Water an essential resource in all cultures is at the heart of human power structures Utilizing a diverse range of theoretical perspectives the contributors to Water and Power in Past Societies provide a broad introduction to the archaeology of water related power structures The studies herein explore the long history of water politics in human society offering new insights into the power structures and inequalities surrounding irrigation systems the collection of rainwater as a component of ancient industrial production and sea water as a facilitator of communication trade and aggression In addition to examining the role of different types of water in creating power relationships the volume presents case studies from a variety of climatic regions ranging from the very dry to the tropical This geographical breadth facilitates cross cultural comparison making Water and Power in Past Societies an essential resource for instructors and students of the archaeology of water Finally in addition to reaching conclusions with significant implications for archaeologists and anthropologists the volume has real contemporary relevance often drawing explicit parallels with issues of current and future water management A Companion to Ancient Near Eastern Art Ann C. Gunter, 2018-11-20 Provides a broad view of the history and current state of scholarship on the art of the ancient Near East This book covers the aesthetic traditions of Mesopotamia Iran Anatolia and the Levant from Neolithic times to the end of the Achaemenid Persian Empire around 330 BCE It describes and examines the field from a variety of critical perspectives across approaches and interpretive frameworks key explanatory concepts materials and selected media and formats and zones of interaction This important work also addresses both traditional and emerging categories of material intellectual perspectives and research priorities The book covers geography and chronology context and setting medium and scale while acknowledging the diversity of regional and cultural traditions and the uneven survival of evidence Part One of the book considers the methodologies and approaches that the field has drawn on and refined Part Two addresses terms and concepts critical to understanding the subjects and formal characteristics of the Near Eastern material record including the intellectual frameworks within which monuments have been approached and interpreted Part Three surveys the field's most distinctive and characteristic genres with special reference to Mesopotamian art and architecture Part Four considers involvement with artistic traditions across a broader reach examining connections with Egypt the Aegean and the Mediterranean And finally Part Five addresses intersections with the closely allied discipline of archaeology and the institutional stewardship of cultural heritage in the modern Middle East Told from multiple perspectives A Companion to Ancient Near Eastern Art is an enlightening must have book for advanced undergraduate and graduate students of ancient Near East art and Near East history as well as those interested in history and art history

The Making of Empire in Bronze Age Anatolia Claudia Glatz, 2020-11-12 In this book Claudia Glatz reconsiders the concept of empire and the processes of imperial making and undoing of the Hittite network in Late Bronze Age Anatolia Using an array of archaeological iconographic and textual sources she offers a fresh account of one of the earliest well attested imperialist polities of the ancient Near East Glatz critically examines the complexity and ever transforming nature of imperial relationships and the practices through which Hittite elites and administrators aimed to bind disparate communities and achieve a measure of sovereignty in particular places and landscapes She also tracks the ambiguities inherent in these practices what they did or did not achieve how they were resisted and how they were subtly negotiated in different regional and cultural contexts

Size Matters - Understanding Monumentality Across Ancient Civilizations Federico Buccellati, Sebastian Hageneuer, Sylva van der Heyden, Felix Levenson, 2019-07-30 When talking about monuments size undeniably matters or does it But how else can we measure monumentality Bringing together researchers from various fields such as archaeology museology history sociology Mesoamerican studies and art history this book discusses terminological and methodological approaches in both theoretical contributions and various case studies While focusing on architectural aspects this volume also discusses the social meaning of monuments the role of forced and free labour as well as textual monumentality The result is a modern interdisciplinary take on an important concept which is notoriously difficult to define

Mercury's Wings F. S. Naiden, Richard J. A. Talbert, 2017 Mercury's Wings marks a milestone as the first ever volume devoted to ancient communications Its eighteen wide ranging essays by art historians Assyriologists Classicists and Egyptologists explore communications as a powerful vehicle not just for the transmission of information but also for the conduct of religion commerce diplomacy culture and more
