set of tools and platforms to implement SAP functionality and to integrate the SAP solutions with non SAP systems This IBM Redbooks publication explains the value of integrating IBM software with SAP solutions It describes how to enhance and extend pre built capabilities in SAP software with best in class IBM enterprise software enabling clients to maximize return on investment ROI in their SAP investment and achieve a balanced enterprise architecture approach This book describes IBM Reference Architecture for SAP a prescriptive blueprint for using IBM software in SAP solutions The reference architecture is focused on defining the use of IBM software with SAP and is not intended to address the internal aspects of SAP components The chapters of this book provide a specific reference architecture for many of the architectural domains that are each important for a large enterprise to establish common strategy efficiency and balance The majority of the most important architectural domain topics such as integration process optimization master data management mobile access Enterprise Content Management business intelligence DevOps security systems monitoring and so on are covered in the book However there are several other architectural domains which are not included in the book This is not to imply that these other architectural domains are not important or are less important or that IBM does not offer a solution to address them It is only reflective of time constraints available resources and the complexity of assembling a book on an extremely broad topic Although more content could have been added the authors feel confident that the scope of architectural material that has been included should provide organizations with a fantastic head start in defining their own enterprise reference architecture for many of the important architectural domains and it is hoped that this book provides great value to those reading it This IBM Redbooks publication is targeted to the following audiences Client decision makers and solution architects leading enterprise transformation projects and wanting to gain further insight so that they can benefit from the integration of IBM software in large scale SAP projects IT architects and consultants integrating IBM technology with SAP solutions

On the one hand more and more new technologies are arising on the other hand business processes have to change because of mergers and acquisitions new regularities changing customer requirements and so forth. As business processes are supported by information technology information technology has to cope with both types of changes. From a business perspective on demand adaptation of information technology to business is required. Service oriented architecture SOA is currently discussed as an opportunity to better adapt to those changes. According to Gartner's hype cycle for emerging technologies SOA already crossed the peak and is now in the trough of disillusionment. But SOA is far from being unfashionable as it would be expected during this phase. There is still high media coverage and a lot of SOA books have been published recently or will be published during the next months. What is true however is that the expectations are getting more realistic and people start to think about the real benefits. This is probably due to the fact that companies experienced that implementing an SOA is not as fast and easy as the marketing hype might have given the impression. Although the hype surrounding SOA is immense the concept is still in its early childhood with regards to concrete implementations. According to a survey conducted by Experton Group only three percent of 110 German enterprises all with over 100 Employees have a SOA based solution in place. Besides high costs expected from migration to SOA the lack of SOA know how is identified as a main reason. As the survey reveals 45 percent of the interviewed enterprises have nearly no knowledge or no knowledge about SOA at all. Another 38 percent have only basic knowledge. The lack of knowledge is confirmed by a survey from the research company Quocirca which found out based on a sample size of 1500 that 30 percent of respondents have absolutely no knowledge about SOA and 25 percent have only minimal knowledge. Similar results are found among enterprises using SAP software. The results of an online survey conducted by the German speaking SAP User Group DSAG shows that 64 percent of 344 enterprises are just a little or not at all familiar with enterprise SOA and only every fifth enterprise has developed a platform strategy. Furthermore enterprise SOA is still a topic of the IT department although it would be
