Breastfeeding is a recognized classic in its field. Now it's been completely revised and updated in a new fourth edition, non-doctrinaire, informative, and friendly. It is the most accessible and authoritative book as much required reading for expecting and new mothers as a pregnancy guide and baby name book. All healthy mothers should consider breastfeeding for the first year of a baby's life according to the American Academy of Pediatrics, and this is the book that will help women give their babies the healthiest start possible. Written by Sally Wendkos Olds and a new co-author Laura Marks, M.D., The Complete Book of Breastfeeding, Fourth Edition, offers a comprehensive introduction to breastfeeding: how to get ready before the baby arrives; how to involve fathers and siblings; and the best diet and foods for mom. There are sections on dealing with problems at the hospital; extensive information on exclusive pumping (EPing); the best systems for giving supplementary bottles to a breastfed baby; the safest sleep scenarios for babies; breastfeeding in public; including laws affecting breastfeeding mothers. New data about preterm infants is presented, and special situations: multiples, breast cancer, overweight, and large-breasted women. Breast surgery, tattoos, and piercings are also discussed in detail. An expanded chapter on weaning features sections on breastfeeding past infancy. Also new is an appendix of online resources.

Julian Dibbell, 2010-09-21. The iPad. The Kindle. Twitter. When the Best Technology Writing series was inaugurated in 2005, these technologies did not exist. Now they define our 21st-century lives. As Julian Dibbell writes in his introduction to The Best Technology Writing 2010, "The digital is us." Yet for that reason, it is also something more: a lightning rod for our feelings about technology in general. Whether it is Sam Anderson's giddy but troubled defense of online distractions; David Carr's full-throated elegy to the dying world of pre-digital publishing; Steven Johnson's warm appreciation of Twitter's bite-size contributions to collective human intelligence; or Evan Ratliff's fascinating month-long quest to disappear without a digital trace, many of the essays gathered here register our intense and complicated fascination with digital media. But as Dibbell notes, these essays also remind us that some of the most disruptive and fascinating technologies continue to come from beyond the digital world: Jill Lepore's writing on the politics of breast-feeding gadgetry; Stephen Silberman's investigation of the placebo effect in pharmaceutical testing; Burkhard Bilger reporting on efforts to build a better cook stove for the developing world; and Tad Friend's profile of electric car developer Elon Musk's efforts to head off environmental catastrophe. All invite us to reflect on how many aspects of human experience remain fundamentally unchanged by digital technology. Packed with marvelous essays on technologies old and new, The Best Technology Writing 2010 is an outstanding addition to this fantastic Cory Doctorow-fascinating Chris Anderson series. The Best Technology Writing 2010 includes essays written by Sam Anderson, Burkhard Bilger, Joshua Bearman, Mark Bowden, David Carr, Douglas Fox, Tad Friend, Ben Greenman, Vanessa Grigoriadis, James Harkin, Adam Higginbotham, Alex Hutchinson, Steven Johnson,
