Question: How does the wavelength and intensity of light affect its ability to free electrons from the surface of a material?

1. Observe: Click Flash the light with a variety of Wavelength values. What do you notice?

I notice that the higher the wavelength the less electrons move off the metal plate, but the lower the frequency the more electrons move of the metal plate.

2. Observe: Click Flash the light with a variety of Intensity values. What do you notice?

The higher the intensity the more electrons move of the metal plate.

3. Form hypothesis: Answer the following questions based on what you have observed so far.

- A. Which factor determines how many photons will strike the metal? The Intensity

Explain: Intensities control how strong the energy is being released.

- B. Which factor determines how much energy each photon has? The wavelength

Explain: Each wavelength has a different energy level so the lower the wavelength the higher the energy

4. Investigate: Set the Intensity to 10%. Use the Gizmo to determine the largest wavelength that will dislodge an electron from the surface of the metal. What is this value? 550 nm

What happens if you increase the intensity? More electrons are emitted.

5. Test: Click Flash the light with an Intensity of 10% and again with an Intensity of 100%.

What happened? All the electrons moved off of the metal plate.

6. Explore: Set the Wavelength to 400 nm. Experiment with different intensities of light.

- A. Does the light intensity affect how many electrons are emitted? Yes

Explain: The higher the intensity the amount of electrons move off the metal plate.

- B. Does the light intensity affect the energy (speed) of the emitted electrons? Yes

Explain: I think it increases the strength of the wavelength as it makes the electrons move faster.

7. Conclude: Choose the best answer to each question.

(Wavelength/Intensity) of a photon determines whether or not electrons are emitted off of a piece of metal. Wavelength is inversely proportional to (velocity/frequency/amplitude). Therefore, in order to emit electrons from a piece of metal, photons must have a (long
