Routledge Handbook of Physical Activity Policy and Practice Joe Piggin, Louise Mansfield, Mike Weed, 2017-12-22 Physical activity inactivity and their relationship to health are serious concerns for governments around the world This is the first book to critically examine the policy and practice of physical activity from a multi disciplinary social scientific perspective Moving beyond the usual biophysical and epidemiological approaches it defines and explores the key themes that are shaping the global physical activity debate Unrivalled in its scale and scope it presents the latest data on physical activity from around the world including case studies from Europe North and South America Africa and Asia Drawing on social economic and behavioural sciences it covers contexts from the global to the local and introduces the dominant ideas which inform the study of physical activity Its 41 chapters examine the use of different forms of evidence in policymaking the role of organisations in advocating physical activity and the practical realities of public health interventions The Routledge Handbook of Physical Activity Policy and Practice is a landmark publication for all students academics policymakers and practitioners interested in the social scientific study of sport exercise physical activity and public health

Breaking Point Rebecca Schwartz Greene, 2023-01-03 WINNER SOCIETY FOR MILITARY HISTORY DISTINGUISHED BOOK AWARDS FIRST BOOK This book informs the public for the first time about the impact of American psychiatry on soldiers during World War II Breaking Point is the first in depth history of American psychiatry in World War II Drawn from unpublished primary documents oral histories and the author's personal interviews and correspondence over years with key psychiatric and military policymakers it begins with Franklin Roosevelt's endorsement of a universal Selective Service psychiatric examination followed by Army and Navy pre and post induction examinations Ultimately 2.5 million men and women were rejected or discharged from military service on neuropsychiatric grounds Never before or since has the United States engaged in such a program In designing Selective Service Medical Circular No 1 psychiatrist Harry Stack Sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter While many American and European psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of American psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening's validity psychiatric and military leaders persisted in 1942 and 1943 in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else Soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric 4Fs and Blacks and Native Americans among others complained of bias A frustrated General George S Patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in Sicily a sentiment shared by Marshall and Eisenhower though they favored a tamer style Yet psychiatric rejections evacuations and discharges mounted While psychiatrist Roy Grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in Tunisia in early 1943 this was the exception But as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself not predisposition precipitated breakdown leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment But this switch was too little too late and slowed by a year long series of Inspector General investigations even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared Ironically despite and even partly because of psychiatrists wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war postwar America soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers popularity and influence of the profession culminating in the National Mental Health Act 1946 But veterans with PTSD not recognized until 1980 were largely neglected
