Experiment 2: Ratios

Introduction

The purpose of this introductory laboratory exercise is to investigate how measurement data are simplified in order to generalize and identify trends in the data. Data concerning two quantities will be compared as a ratio, which is generally defined as a relationship between numbers or quantities. A ratio is usually simplified by dividing one number by another.

Procedure

Part A: Circles and Proportionality Constants

1. Obtain three different sizes of cups, containers, or beakers with circular bases. Trace around the bottoms to make three large but different-sized circles on a blank sheet of paper.

2. Mark the diameter on each circle by drawing a straight line across the center. Measure each diameter in mm and record the measurements in Data Table 2.1. Repeat this procedure for each circle for a total of three trials.
