

Elementary Progress Reports

For many years, we have used standards-based progress reports. A committee of teachers, curriculum specialists, administrators and members of the district's technology department worked diligently to revise our existing standards-based progress reports. The committee studied the research related to best practices in reporting student progress, identified the guiding principles that frame the reporting document, and drafted descriptors that are closely aligned to the Connecticut Core Standards for instruction in each content area. Aligning classroom instruction, assessment, and feedback to students and families to rigorous standards is essential to improving teaching and learning. The ultimate goal of the committee was to create a progress report that was clearly aligned to new curriculum expectations and would provide parents with more specific feedback to better understand their child's progress, effort, and achievement.

East Hampton Elementary Schools' progress reports will provide information on a student's developmental abilities and progress in attaining learning standards in each subject. It is our hope that standards-based progress reports, together with teacher conferences, will provide a more comprehensive and meaningful lens for you to understand and support your child's learning. The progress report and conferences will answer the question, "What does your child need to do to capitalize on his or her strengths and to further develop skills?"

Systems for Student Learning Thomas R. Guskey, Jane M. Bailey, 2024-07-24 Teachers parents students administrators and community members all agree that we need better grading and reporting systems Often these systems are inadequate because they are part of a tradition that can go unexamined and unquestioned for years Here is the first serious look at the issue written to provide all those involved especially teachers with a coherent and thoughtful framework Guskey and Bailey offer four pillars of successful grading and reporting systems Communication is the primary goal of grading and reporting Grading and reporting are integral parts of the instructional process Good reporting is based on good evidence Creating change in grading and reporting requires creating a multi faceted reporting system Written to help readers develop a deeper and more reflective understanding of the various aspects of the subject Thomas Guskey and Jane Bailey's work brings organization and clarity to a murky and disagreement filled topic Here is a practical and essential guide for teachers administrators or anyone concerned with understanding and implementing best practices in grading and reporting systems

NAEP ... Writing Report Card Highlights , 10 Great Curricula Thomas S. Poetter, 2012-01-01 With Susan L M Bartow Lara A Chatman Daniel Ciamarra Christopher L Cox Dawn Mann Kevin J Smith Kevin M Talbert Mary A Webb and Amy Fisher Young 10 Great Curricula is a collection of stories written by educators who have come to understand curricula differently as a result of their engagement with a graduate course and its instructor The book represents the best of what can be found in teaching and learning in general and in the quest for meaningful ways to understand curricula in particular The co authors of this volume on 10 Great Curricula framed their inquiries into progressive democratic curricula at least initially through Marsh and Willis 2007 notions of planned enacted and lived curricula These frames helped the writers think about how to engage a curriculum as it is developed delivered and lived by its participants and for the inquirers to actually become participantinquirers in the curriculum at hand The chapters depict the power the possibility and the transformational potential of great progressive curricula today by locating them in schools and in the community by making them come alive to the reader and by suggesting means through which the reader can adopt a more progressive democratic stance to curriculum despite the seemingly overwhelming nature of the conservative traditionalist instrumentalist movements in curriculum teaching and assessment today The book is intended for students of education teaching and curriculum undergraduates graduates and practicing educational professionals especially those looking for examples in the world in which progressive democratic ideals are nurtured and practiced Nation's Report Card ,2003 Writing Strands:

The NAEP 1997 Arts Report Card Hilary R. Persky, Brent A. Sandene, Janice M. Askew, 1998 The last several years have seen a growing resolve among educators and policymakers to assure the place of a solid arts education in U S schools In 1997 the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP conducted a national assessment in the arts at grade 8 The assessment included the areas of music theater and visual arts For each of these arts areas this Report Card describes the achievement of eighth graders within the general population and in various subgroups Taken with the information provided about instructional and institutional variables this report gives a context for evaluating the status of students learning in the arts The arts assessment was designed to measure the content specifications described in the arts framework for NAEP The arts have a unique capacity to integrate intellect emotions and physical skills in the creation of meaning Meaningful arts assessments need to be built around three arts processes creating performing and responding To capture these processes the arts assessment exercises included authentic tasks that assessed students knowledge and skills and constructed response and multiple choice questions that explore students abilities to describe analyze interpret and evaluate works of art in written form Data are reported in overall summaries for creating performing and responding in terms of student and school reported background variables Student results for theater are discussed in terms of teacher reported background variables as well The major findings of the assessment are that a large percentage of grade 8 students attend schools in which music and visual arts were taught usually by specialists most students attended schools in which instruction following district or state curricula was offered in music and visual arts but not in theater or dance and most visual arts and music instruction took place in school facilities that were dedicated to that subject JH Program Improvement for Social Studies Education in Wisconsin Wisconsin Social Studies Curriculum Study Committee,1977
