Preparing Teachers for the 21st Century Xudong Zhu, Kenneth Zeichner, 2013-12-16 This book addresses two main questions namely how to prepare high quality teachers in the 21st century and how the East and the West can learn from each other It addresses the different challenges and dilemmas that eastern countries especially China and western countries are facing with regard to teacher education We explore the question by examining teacher education research practice and policy in different countries identifying both common problems and country specific challenges We then try to find valuable experiences theories and practice which can solve specific problems in the process of teacher education also addressing how local and global factors impact it In this regard our approach does not strictly separate pre service teacher education from teachers in service professional development adopting an integrative perspective Further we believe the respective social and cultural contexts must also be taken into account Lastly we call for teachers knowledge and individual character traits to be accounted for in the education of high quality teachers

Teachers of English Learners Negotiating Authoritarian Policies Lucinda Pease-Alvarez, Katharine Davies Samway, 2012-02-07 In an effort to reverse the purported crisis in U S public schools the federal government states districts have mandated policies that favor standardized approaches to teaching and assessment As a consequence teachers have been relying on teacher centered instructional approaches that do not take into consideration the needs experiences and interests of their students this is particularly pronounced with English learners ELs

The widespread implementation of these policies is particularly striking in California where more than 25% of all public school students are ELs This volume reports on three studies that explore how teachers of ELs in three school districts negotiated these policies Drawing on sociocultural and poststructural perspectives on agency and power the authors examine how contexts in which teachers of ELs lived and worked influenced the messages they constructed about these policies and mediated their decisions about policy implementation The volume provides important insights into processes affecting the learning and teaching of ELs
