The Origin Story of Fort Road/West Seventh Street, the Township/City of Saint Paul, the Territory/State of Minnesota: Glacial Age Forward Joseph Landsberger,2025-08-01 The relationship of a people to the lands where they live is crucial for understanding their history and culture From Bdote to Imnizha ska from Fort Snelling to Seven Corners the West End in Saint Paul Minnesota has had a complex geologic and demographic history These origins elucidate settlement patterns beginning with Native peoples particularly the eastern Dakota Successive evolution dates from extractive European colonialism beginning with French explorers traders and missionaries However a m tis population is soon displaced by East Coast claimants and speculators

following acquisition of Native lands With the opening of those lands to settlement early working class European settler immigrants from Bavaria Bohemia and Baden W rtemberg drained swamps and cleared the Big Woods who worked and built who organized and socialized Successive waves included Italians Irish Blacks Jews et al They built what has become the oldest housing stock and commercial strip of the State of Minnesota Fast forward to post World War II times the stresses of these same inner city neighborhoods are reclaimed by a dynamic activist group of neighbors who resist urban renewal plans While neighborhoods from east to west from Irvine Park to Kipps Glenn were saved historic sites including the Schmidt Brewery complex and Czech and Slovak hall achieved national historic prominence parks community centers schools churches streetscapes were restored often in response to destructive efforts that diminished not only their cultural importance but also environmental as relates to the Mississippi River its bluffs and terraces

Reading Time Catherine Compton-Lilly, 2015-04-24 While teachers cannot travel back in time to visit their students at earlier ages they can draw on the rich sets of experiences and knowledge that students bring to classrooms In her latest book Catherine Compton Lilly examines the literacy practices and school trajectories of eight middle school students and their families Through a unique longitudinal lens the author has studied these same students from first grade we see how students from a low income inner city community grow and develop academically revealing critical insights for teachers about literacy development identity construction and school achievement Based on interviews reading assessments and writing samples Reading Time advocates for educators to Provide opportunities for students to develop long term relationships with teachers and administrators Allow children and parents to share their stories to identify obstacles that students encounter as they move through school Collaborate and learn from students former teachers as well as inform their future teachers Develop portfolio systems and longitudinal records that highlight children s emerging interests abilities and potential for the future Catherine Compton Lilly is an associate professor in Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Wisconsin Madison She has taught in the public school system for 18 years Her books include Reading Families Re reading Families and Bedtime Stories and Book Reports The analysis here runs deeper than other contemporary critiques of accountability regimes and standardization inviting us instead to consider how time schooling and literacy have always been co constructed Reading Time features compelling examples of literacy practices that traverse generations which could only be understood through interviews and observations extending over time Kevin Leander Vanderbilt University
