one of today's most accomplished practitioners. It will have its world premiere at the Goodman Theatre in Chicago in the spring of 2001. The Sluts of Sutton Drive Joshua Conkel, 2012-06-22 Would you ever want to sit with me in the dark? Just sit with the lights out, barely even touching, maybe not touching at all, and just listen to me breathe. Everybody wants a piece of Stephanie Schwartz. Her son's demanding, nuggets her boyfriend wants her to wax, and her best friend's taking her to a stripping class. Now there's a rapist on Sutton Drive, an obscene caller invading her home, and a portal to hell beneath her sofa. How far must she go to make it all stop? And how far is too far? A heart-breaking taboo-busting black comedy by Joshua Conkel, the most important queer playwright of his generation. Doric Wilson, the Co-Founder of Off Off Broadway's very first theatre, Caf Cino. More Dynamite Craig Raine, 2014-06-01 More Dynamite anthologizes a wealth of essays by a writer with one of the keenest critical eyes of his generation. Craig Raine, poet, critic, novelist, Oxford don, and editor, turns his fearsome and unflinching gaze on subjects ranging from Kafka to Koons, Beckett to Babel. He waxes lyrical about Ron Mueck's hyperreal sculptures and reassesses the metafiction of David Foster Wallace. For Raine, no element of cultural output is insignificant, be it cinema, fiction, poetry, or installation art. Finding solace in both literature and art alike, and finding moments of truth and beauty where others had stopped looking, More Dynamite will reinvigorate readers, challenge our perceptions of the classics, and wonderfully affirm our love of good writing, new and old. This extensive collection of essays is a crash course in 20th-century artistic endeavor, nothing short of a master class in high culture from one of the most discerning minds in contemporary British letters. A Companion to Twentieth-Century American Drama David Krasner, 2008-04-15 This Companion provides an original and authoritative survey of twentieth-century American drama studies, written by some of the best scholars and critics in the field. Balances consideration of canonical material with discussion of works by previously marginalized playwrights. Includes studies of leading dramatists such as Tennessee Williams, Arthur Miller, Eugene O'Neill, and Gertrude Stein. Allows readers to make new links between particular plays and playwrights. Examines the movements that framed the century, such as the Harlem Renaissance, lesbian and gay drama, and the solo performances of the 1980s and 1990s. Situates American drama within larger discussions about American ideas and culture. Dollhouse Rebecca Gilman, 2010-03-24 Nora seems to have it all: a successful husband, three adorable children, and a beautiful home in the tony Lincoln Park neighborhood of Chicago. But what looks like the perfect life is woefully incomplete, propped up by dark secrets and bitter betrayals. While her husband Terry single-mindedly climbs the career ladder, Nora's compulsive shopping and scheming push her ever further from freedom and self-fulfillment. As the lies on which their life is built gradually emerge, Nora comes to realize the true cost of what she thinks she has always wanted. From Ibsen's masterpiece A Doll's House, award-winning playwright Rebecca Gilman crafts a bold and insightful update. This contemporary adaptation brings Ibsen's classic into our century with a sharp eye for social satire and moments of dark comedy coupled with powerful human drama. The Glory of Living Rebecca Claire Gilman, 2002 The Glory of Living tells the story of Lisa, a 15-year-old girl, and her
