Urdu/Hindi: An Artificial Divide Abdul Jamil Khan, 2006 In a blow against the British Empire Khan suggests that London artificially divided India's Hindu and Muslim populations by splitting their one language in two then burying the evidence in obscure scholarly works outside the public view All language is political and so is the boundary between one language and another The author analyzes the origins of Urdu one of the earliest known languages and propounds the iconoclastic views that Hindi came from pre Aryan Dravidian and Austric Munda not from Aryan's Sanskrit which like the Indo European languages Greek and Latin etc are rooted in the Middle East Mesopotamia not in Europe Hindi's script came from the Aramaic system similar to Greek and in the 1800s the British initiated the divisive game of splitting one language in two Hindi for the Hindus and Urdu for the Muslims These facts he says have been buried and nearly lost in turgid academic works Khan bolsters his hypothesis with copious technical linguistic examples This may spark a revolution in linguistic history Urdu Hindi An Artificial Divide integrates the out of Africa linguistic evolution theory with the fossil linguistics of Middle East and discards the theory that Sanskrit descended from a hypothetical proto IndoEuropean language and by degeneration created dialects Urdu Hindi and others It shows that several tribes from the Middle East created the hybrid by cumulative evolution The oldest groups Austric and Dravidian starting 8000 B C provided the grammar syntax plus about 60% of vocabulary S K T added 10% after 1500 B C and Arabic Persian 20-30% after A D 800 The book reveals Mesopotamia as the linguistic melting pot of Sumerian Babylonian Elamite Hittite Hurrian Mitanni etc with a common script and vocabularies shared mutually and passed on to I E S K T D R Arabic and then to Hindi Urdu in fact the author locates oldest evidence of S K T in Syria The book also exposes the myths of a revealed S K T or Hebrew and the fiction of linguistic races i e Aryan Semitic etc The book supports the one world concept and reveals the potential of Urdu Hindi to unite all genetic elements races and regions of the Indo Pakistan sub continent This is important reading not only for those interested to understand the divisive exploitation of languages in British led India's partition but for those interested in The science and history of origin of Urdu Hindi and other languages The false claims of linguistic races and creation History of Languages and Scripts Language Mythology and Racism Ancient History and Fossil Languages British Rule and India's Partition

Goodbye to Urdu Ali Daniel, 2020-10-14 Dreams that come true hurt us most in future People are not afraid to go to hell because they've already been through a hell here A preacher tries to put fear of graves in their hearts in graphic detail but they mock him Nothing new they are so used to it visceral fear in real life The story of a boy who grapples with the death of his father He tries to find the answers in the life passed in his village in the soft light of the night and the brutal sunlight of the day It is not only the loss of childhood dreams but also the language spoken in them Slowly and surely he watches a ghetto surreptitiously encroaching upon his family and community There a bird refuses to recognize another bird Exiled there with the same seasons now ruthless and relentlessly painful he confuses the cries of the birds with the cries of the children It s just not the fear for himself but the fear for generations to come What will happen to them People have a different criterion for buying homes there They look for a place where they will not be attacked at night      Required Reading Priyasha Mukhopadhyay,2024-08-20 How ordinary forms of writing including manuals petitions almanacs and magazines shaped the way colonial subjects understood their place in empire In Required Reading Priyasha Mukhopadhyay offers a new and provocative history of reading that centers archives of everyday writing from the British empire Mukhopadhyay rummages in the drawers of bureaucratic offices and the cupboards of publishers in search of how historical readers in colonial South Asia responded to texts ranging from licenses to manuals how they made sense of them and what this can tell us about their experiences living in the shadow of a vast imperial power Taking these engagements seriously she argues is the first step to challenging conventional notions of what it means to read Mukhopadhyay s account is populated by a cast of characters that spans the ranks of colonial society from bored soldiers to frustrated bureaucrats These readers formed close even intimate relationships with everyday texts She presents four case studies a soldier s manual a cache of bureaucratic documents a collection of astrological almanacs and a women s literary magazine Tracking moments in which readers refused to read were unable to read and read in part she uncovers the dizzying array of material textual and aural practices these texts elicited Even selectively read almanacs and impenetrable account books she finds were springboards for personal world shaping readerly relationships Untethered from the constraints of conventional literacy Required Reading reimagines how texts work in the world and how we understand the very idea of reading      Disrupted City Manan Ahmed Asif,2024-10-22 A stunning history of Pakistan s cultural and intellectual capital from one of the preeminent scholars of South Asia Longlisted 2025 Cundill History Prize The city of Lahore was more than one thousand years old when it went through a violent schism As the South Asian subcontinent was partitioned in 1947 to gain freedom from Britain s colonial hold and the Islamic Republic of Pakistan was formed the city s large Hindu and Sikh populations were pushed toward India and an even larger Muslim refugee population settled in the city This was just the latest in a long history of the city s making and unmaking Over the centuries the city has kept a firm grip on the imagination of travelers poets writers and artists More recently it has been journalists who have been drawn to the city as a focal point for a nation that continues to grab international headlines For this book acclaimed historian Manan Ahmed Asif brings to life a diverse and vibrant world by walking the city again and again over the course of many years Along the way he joins Sufi study circles and architects doing restoration in the medieval parts of Lahore and speaks with a broad range of storytellers and historians To this Asif juxtaposes deep analysis of the city s centuries old literary culture noting how it reverberates among the people of Lahore today To understand modern Pakistan requires understanding its cultural capital and Disrupted City uses Lahore s cosmopolitan past and its fractured present to provide a critical lens to challenge the grand narratives of the Pakistani nation state and its national project of writing history      Encounters With Men Of Miracles Mayah
