Cheremisinoff,2017-06-19 Written by one of the world s foremost authorities on the subject this is the most comprehensive and in depth treatment available to environmental engineers and scientists for the remediation of groundwater one of the earth s most precious resources Groundwater is one of the Earth s most precious resources We use it for drinking bathing and many other purposes Without clean water humans would cease to exist Unfortunately because of ignorance or lack of caring groundwater is often contaminated through industrialization construction or any number of other ways It is the job of the environmental engineer to remediate the contaminated groundwater and make what has been tainted safe again. Selecting the proper remediation strategy and process is the key to moving forward and once this process has been selected it must be executed properly taking into consideration the costs, the type of contaminants that are involved, time frames and many other factors. This volume provides a broad overview of the current and most widely applied remedial strategies. Instead of discussing these strategies in a generic way, the volume is organized by focusing on major contaminants that are of prime focus to industry and municipal water suppliers. The specific technologies that are applicable to the chemical contaminants discussed in different chapters are presented but then cross referenced to other chemical classes or contaminants that are also candidates for the technologies. The reader will also find extensive cost guidance in this volume to assist in developing preliminary cost estimates for capital equipment and operations/maintenance costs which should be useful in screening strategies. The eight chapters cover all of the major various types of contaminants and their industrial applications providing a valuable context to each scenario of contamination. This is the most thorough and up to date volume available on this important subject and it is a must have for any environmental engineer or scientist working in groundwater remediation.
