Physical Science Paper 1 September 2013 Memoranda:

The Secure and the Dispossessed Nick Buxton, Ben Hayes, 2015-11-20 While the world's scientists and many of its inhabitants despair at the impact of climate change corporate and military leaders see nothing but opportunities For them melting ice caps mean newly accessible fossil fuels borders to be secured from climate refugees social conflicts to be managed and more failed states in which to intervene They are securing their assets at the expense of the planet and its inhabitants The Secure and the Dispossessed looks at these deadly approaches with a critical eye It also considers the flip side that the legitimacy of the elite is under unprecedented pressure from resistance by communities to resource grabs to those creating new ecological and socially just models for managing our energy food and water Topics covered include geoengineering militarism refugee protection greenwashing and the agricultural crisis among others Adaptation and resilience to a climate changed world is desperately needed but the form it will take will affect all of our futures This Changes Everything Naomi Klein, 2014-09-16 With strong first hand reporting and an original provocative thesis Naomi Klein returns with this book on how the climate crisis must spur transformational political change Space Studies Board Annual Report 2013 National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Space Studies Board, 2014-04-09 The original charter of the Space Science Board was established in June 1958 3 months before the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA opened its doors The Space Science Board and its successor the Space Studies Board SSB have provided expert external and independent scientific and programmatic advice to NASA on a continuous basis from NASA's inception until the present The SSB has also provided such advice to other executive branch agencies including the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration NOAA the National Science Foundation NSF the U S Geological Survey USGS the Department of Defense as well as to Congress Space Studies Board Annual Report 2013 covers a message from the chair of the SSB Charles F Kennel This report also explains the origins of the Space Science Board how the Space Studies Board functions today the SSB's collaboration with other National Research Council units assures the quality of the SSB reports acknowledges the audience and sponsors and expresses the necessity to enhance the outreach and improve dissemination of SSB reports This report will be relevant to a full range of government audiences in civilian space research including NASA NSF NOAA USGS and the Department of Energy as well members of the SSB policy makers and researchers A History of Scientific Journals Aileen Fyfe, Noah Moxham, Julie McDougall-Waters, Camilla Mørk Røstvik, 2022-10-03 Modern scientific research has changed so much since Isaac Newton's day it is more professional collaborative and international with more complicated equipment and a more diverse community of researchers Yet the use of scientific journals to report share and store results is a thread that runs through the history of science from Newton's day to ours Scientific journals are now central to academic research and careers Their editorial and peer review processes act as a check on new claims and findings and researchers build their careers on the list of journal articles they have published The journal that reported

Newton's optical experiments still exist. First published in 1665 and now fully digital, the Philosophical Transactions has carried papers by Charles Darwin, Dorothy Hodgkin, and Stephen Hawking. It is now one of eleven journals published by the Royal Society of London. Unrivalled insights from the Royal Society's comprehensive archives have enabled the authors to investigate more than 350 years of scientific journal publishing. The editorial management, business practices, and financial difficulties of the Philosophical Transactions and its sibling Proceedings reveal the meaning and purpose of journals in a changing scientific community. At a time when we are surrounded by calls to reform the academic publishing system, it has never been more urgent that we understand its history.

Ocean Science and the British Cold War State Samuel A. Robinson, 2018-05-03 This book focuses on the activities of the scientific staff of the British National Institute of Oceanography during the Cold War. Revealing how issues such as intelligence gathering, environmental surveillance, the identification of enemy science, along with administrative practice informed and influenced the Institute's Cold War program. In turn, this program helped shape decisions taken by Government, military, and the civil service towards science in post-war Britain. This was not simply a case of government ministers choosing to patronize particular scientists, but a relationship between politics and science that profoundly impacted on the future of ocean science in Britain.

Bulk Collection of Signals Intelligence National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Computer Science and Telecommunications Board, Committee on Responding to Section 5(d) of Presidential Policy Directive 28: The Feasibility of Software to Provide Alternatives to Bulk Signals Intelligence Collection, 2015-03-24 The Bulk Collection of Signals Intelligence Technical Options study is a result of an activity called for in Presidential Policy Directive 28 (PPD 28) issued by President Obama in January 2014 to evaluate U.S. signals intelligence practices. The directive instructed the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) to produce a report within one year assessing the feasibility of creating software that would allow the intelligence community more easily to conduct targeted information acquisition rather than bulk collection. ODNI asked the National Research Council (NRC), the operating arm of the National Academy of Sciences and National Academy of Engineering to conduct a study which began in June 2014 to assist in preparing a response to the President. Over the ensuing months, a committee of experts appointed by the Research Council produced the report.
