

Poetry Analysis

By: Naomi Almero

What is poetry analysis? Poetry analysis is when you, personally, take the time to read and understand a poem while analyzing it. When you analyze poetry, you have to understand it thoroughly and find the flow of the writing from the writer him or herself. To analyze is to examine methodically and in detail the constitution or structure of information, typically for purposes of explanation and interpretation. I analyzed five poems: A Thank-You Note by Michael Ryan, Mending Wall by Robert Frost, Medusa by Louise Bogan, Two Guitars by Victor Hernández Cruz, and The Widow's Lament in Springtime by William Carlos Williams. Each poem was unique and well-written by its author and contains entertainment as you read through each word, through each syllable. In my opinion, I love reading poems, but I love understanding them more because then, I feel more connected or I feel in sync with what the author wanted to tell its reader. Each poem has a special meaning through their context and rhythm and with each literary technique, each poem becomes more of a connection. Like with similes and metaphors, they compare an item to another item or person, but there's a reason that they did. How does analyzing poetry help you better understand? When you read a poem, you use your knowledge to better comprehend the poem whether you have little knowledge. Always remember that poets use literary techniques in every poem to show or achieve a particular effect.

In A Thank-You Note by Michael Ryan, I noticed a story in the poem about a father thanking a friend of his because she sent his daughter pens to write with to show a healing process. Do you know what happened that might have hurt her? No, you don't because the poet has left that with you to understand thoroughly. Michael Ryan had a rhyming pattern in the poem, with words like "card" and "hard," "sent" and "instrument", and "done" and "one" to rhyme. To rhyme is to have or end with a sound that corresponds to another. He also had another literary technique known as a simile. My example in his poem was "Who can love you as your child does?" A simile is a figure of speech involving the comparison of one thing with another of a different kind, used to make a description more emphatic or vivid. In this case, he was comparing the love your child gives you to anyone else.

Robert Frost wrote a poem called Mending Wall. I noticed that when I read the poem that he used repetition as a literary technique. He would always repeat "Good fences make good neighbours." When you use repetition, it is usually used to emphasize on something, but when I read that line the first time, the only word that came to mind was alone or
