

Video Worksheet: "Dogs and More Dogs"

BIOLOGY: Evolution

Directions: Answer the following questions after watching the video "Dogs and More Dogs".

1. What is general about the species of the dog that makes it so interesting to biologists?

The species of dog is so interesting because there are so many different types of dogs that are all different from each other – yet they all come from the same ancestors. The whole world of domesticated breeds are based on that original 15,000-year-old wolf.

2. How have two major hypotheses about how dogs evolved from wolves (they) been?

a) First humans managed to domesticate the wolf packs by tending them and feeding the wild pups during the winters. b) First people were willing to be tamed and they became dogs and not the other way around. Humans in Mongolia discovered wolves as useful predators (sheep herders).

3. What was the observation in the Tibetan dogs that supported the hypothesis?

The observation in the Tibetan dogs led to the hypothesis because people say that the dogs that were humans started to change genetically from wolves. Humans were taken around human's houses from domesticated wolf pups. The relation with Tibetan dogs observation indicates a direct link in the lineage of the many animals and things that humans are based on. Domestication and it evolved as well as it. Experts say this could have been just a few thousands of years ago.

4. What is evidence to the two ways to explain physical differences between dogs and wolves. What are the major differences?

Some major differences between dogs and wolves are that dogs have smaller bodies, shorter legs, and a more friendly and approachable nature than wolves. Wolves are larger, more aggressive, and have a more wild nature. Dogs are also more social and have a more domesticated nature.

5. Which evidence from dogs was, probably made and domesticated, since it would have helped humans? Do you think that humans domesticated them? What about the experiment in the video (dog)?

The experiment in the video showed that the features that dogs have developed (aggression, they)
