Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch Julia T. Meszaros, 2016-03-03 In an age of self affirmation and self assertion selfless love can appear as a threat to the lover's personal well being This perception jars with the Biblical promise that we gain our life through losing it and therefore calls for a theological response In conversation with the Protestant theologian Paul Tillich and the atheistic moral philosopher and novelist Iris Murdoch Selfless Love and Human Flourishing in Paul Tillich and Iris Murdoch enquires into the anthropological grounds on which selfless love can be said to build up rather than undermine the lover's self It proposes that while the implausibility of selfless love was furthered by the modern deconstruction of the self both Tillich and Murdoch utilize this very deconstruction towards explicating and restoring the link between selfless love and human flourishing Julia T Meszaros shows that they use the modern diagnosis of the human being's lack of a stable and independent self as manifest in Sartre's existentialism in support of an understanding of the self as relational and fallen This leads them to view a loving orientation away from self and a surrender to the other as critical to the full flourishing of human selfhood In arguing that Tillich and Murdoch defend the link between selfless love and human flourishing through reference to the human being's ontological selflessness Meszaros closely engages Søren Kierkegaard's earlier attempt to keep selfless love and human flourishing in a productive dialectical tension She also examines the breakdown of this tension in the later figures of Anders Nygren Simone Weil and Jean Paul Sartre and addresses the pitfalls of this breakdown Her examination concludes by arguing that the link between selfless love and human flourishing would be strengthened by a more resolute endorsement of a personal God and of the reciprocal nature of selfless love

introduction and throughout the text the author comments on the method and discusses continuities similarities and differences among the films The book is structured according to the central themes of the films including time and death love and lust secrets and human identity Some of the films are relevant to more than one of these thematic elements The introductory essay explores the themes their representation in the films and the ways in which they may be elucidated by a psychoanalytically informed critique Brief paragraphs between the sections of the book facilitate the transitions In an appendix there are three essays titled Mise en scene Whatever Flames Upon the Night and Mad Doctors Fork on the Left, Knife in the Back Michael Musto, 2014-06-24 For over a quarter of a century Michael Musto entertained the country with his column La Dolce Musto in the Village Voice fabulous funny and flippant this collection is an insider's guide to the glittering highs and desperate lows of New York City's more colorful residents Hailed by the New York Times as the city's most punny raunchy and self-referential gossip columnist Michael Musto doled out wit and wisdom in his weekly Village Voice column for twenty-nine years This waggish and wise book contains highlights from his published pieces as well as several original essays With his trademark slashing humor Musto weighs in on everything from celebrities in need of counseling to cheap thrill seeking and why weirdos are his heroes No one is spared including the self-proclaimed King of Gossip himself His interviews and profiles of Paris Hilton Sandra Bernhard Crispin Glover Kiki and Herb Sarah Silverman and other fringe celebrities are priceless made all the more vivid by Musto's extraordinary access Catty titillating and endlessly enthralling Fork on the Left Knife in the Back is a feast for the senses a must-have book for Musto devotees and fans of popular culture This ebook features an introduction by the author The Politics of the Wretched Zahi Zalloua, 2024-09-05 The Politics of the Wretched argues for resentment's generative negativity prompting a shift from resentment as a personal expression of frustration to resentment as a collective No Inspired by Kant and Nietzsche's philosophy Zalloua identifies two modes of deploying resentment private and public use by substituting resentment for reason This reinterpretation argues for a public use of resentment for the wretched to universalize their grievances to see their antagonism as cutting across societies and to turn personal trauma into a common cause A public use of resentment rails against the ideology of identity and victimhood and insists on resentment's generative negativity its own rationality prompting a shift from resentment as a personal expression of frustration to resentment as a collective No Reframing resentment as a tool to oppose the evils of capitalism anti-Blackness and neocolonialism it both alarms the liberal gatekeepers of the status quo and promises to energize the anti-racist Left in its ongoing struggles for universal justice and emancipation Musings on Perimenopause and Menopause Heather Dillaway, Laura Wershle, 2021-04-23 A woman muses about buying lovely new panties another sets out on the trip of a lifetime a blogger offers information support and community to perimenopausal women researchers uncover myths and misconceptions about migrant and refugee women's experiences of menopause a gerontology scholar extrapolates for menopause the meanings of cultural representations of childbirth a sociologist and intersex advocate challenges her
