November 2013 Maths And Memo:

Disorder and the Disinformation Society Jonathan Paul Marshall, James Goodman, Didar Zowghi, Francesca da Rimini, 2015-04-17 This book is the first general social analysis that seriously considers the daily experience of information disruption and software failure within contemporary Western society Through an investigation of informationalism defined as a contemporary form of capitalism it describes the social processes producing informational disorder While most social theory sees disorder as secondary pathological or uninteresting this book takes disordering processes as central to social life The book engages with theories of information society which privilege information order offering a strong counterpoint centred on disinformation Disorder and the Disinformation Society offers a practical agenda arguing that difficulties in producing software are both inherent to the process of developing software and in the social dynamics of informationalism It outlines the dynamics of software failure as they impinge on of information workers and on daily life explores why computerized finance has become inherently self disruptive asks how digital enclosure and intellectual property create conflicts over cultural creativity and disrupt informational accuracy and scholarship and reveals how social media can extend but also distort the development of social movements

Power in Numbers Talithia Williams, 2018-04-10 From rocket scientists to code breakers fascinating stories of women who overcame obstacles shattered stereotypes and pursued their passion for math Notices of the American Mathematical Society With more than 200 photos and original interviews with several of the amazing women covered Power in Numbers The Rebel Women of Mathematics is a full color volume that puts a spotlight on the influence of women on the development of mathematics over the last two millennia Each biography reveals the life of a different female mathematician from her childhood and early influences to the challenges she faced and the great achievements she made in spite of them Learn how After her father terminated her math lessons Sofia Kovalevskaya snuck algebra books into her bed to read at night Emmy Noether became an invaluable resource to Albert Einstein while she was in the Navy Native American rocket scientist Mary Golda Ross developed designs for fighter jets and missiles in a top secret unit Katherine Johnson's life or death calculations at NASA meant that astronauts such as Alan Shepard and John Glenn made it home alive Shakuntala Devi multiplied massive numbers in her head so her family could eat at night Pamela Harris proved her school counselors wrong when they told her she would only succeed as a bilingual secretary Carla Cotwright Williams began her life in the dangerous streets of South Central Los Angeles before skyrocketing to a powerful career with the Department of Defense in Washington DC These women are a diverse group but their stories have one thing in common At some point on their journeys someone believed in them and made them think the impossible was perhaps not so impossible A quick read full of dramatic stories and eye catching illustrations MAA Reviews I found myself marveling at the personal anecdotes and quotes throughout the book Notices of the American Mathematical Society

Military Neuroscience and the Coming Age of Neurowarfare Armin Krishnan, 2016-10-04 Krishnan describes military applications of neuroscience research and emerging neurotechnology with relevance to the conduct of armed conflict and law enforcement This work builds upon literature by scholars such as Moreno and Giordano and fills an existing gap not only in terms of reviewing available and future neurotechnologies and relevant applications but by discussing how the military pursuit of these technologies fits into the overall strategic context The first to sketch future neurowarfare by looking at its potentials as well as its inherent limitations this book s main theme is how military neuroscience will enhance and possibly transform both classical psychological operations and cyber warfare Its core argument is that nonlethal strategies and tactics could become central to warfare in the first half of the twenty first century This creates both humanitarian opportunities in making war less bloody and burdensome as well as some unprecedented threats and dangers in terms of preserving freedom of thought and will in a coming age where minds can be manipulated with great precision

The Report: Kuwait 2014 Oxford Business Group,2014-09-03 Kuwait accounts for approximately 6 1% of the world s proven oil reserves with hydrocarbons revenues comprising more than 65% of the country s GDP and 95% of total exports in 2013 Cautious budgetary decisions have resulted in large surpluses creating a solid base for public expenditure programmes such as the National Development Plan which is set to diversify the economy and boost employment Although tapering the US Federal Reserve s quantitative easing programme is likely to affect global liquidity and play a key part in growth prospects for 2014 15 the GCC economy is still forecast to expand by 4 1% for the year and in Kuwait where a handful of new PPP plans and deals are slated for 2014 there are promising signs that the year could be a landmark for economic growth and expansion
