Setswana Questions Paper1:

Text Variability Measures in Corpus Design for Setswana Lexicography Thapelo J. Otlogetswe, 2011-01-18 This book is about the design of a Setswana corpus for lexicography While various corpora have been compiled and a variety of corpora based research has been attempted in African languages no effort has been made towards corpus design Additionally although extensive analysis of the Setswana language has been done by missionaries grammarians and linguists since the 1800s none of this research is in corpus design Most research has been largely on the grammatical study of the language The recent corpora research in African languages in general has been on the use of corpora for the compilation of dictionaries and little of it is in corpus design Pioneers of this kind of corpora research in African languages are Prinsloo and De Schryver 1999 De Schryver and Prinsloo 2000 and 2001 and Gouws and Prinsloo 2005 Because of a lack of research in corpora design particularly in African languages this book attempts to fill that gap especially for Setswana It is hoped that the finding of this study will inspire similar designs in other languages comparable to Setswana We explore corpus design by focusing on measuring a variety of text types for lexical richness at comparable token points The study explores the question of whether a corpus compiled for lexicography must comprise a variety of texts drawn from different text types or whether the quality of retrieved information for lexicographic purposes from a corpus comprising diverse text varieties could be equally extracted from a corpus with a single text type This study therefore determines whether linguistic variability is crucial in corpus design for lexicography

Curriculum and Reality in African Primary Schools Hubert William Richmond Hawes, 1979

Journal of African Languages and Linguistics, 1997 Ideophones F. K. Erhard Voeltz, Christa Kilian-Hatz, 2001-12-19 The present volume represents a selection of papers presented at the International Symposium on Ideophones held in January 1999 in St Augustin Germany They center around the following hypotheses Ideophones are universal and constitute a grammatical category in all languages of the world ideophones and similar words have a special dramaturgic function that differs from all other word classes they simulate an event an emotion a perception through language In addition to this unique function a good number of formal parallels can be observed The languages dealt with here display strikingly similar patterns of derivational processes involving ideophones An equally widespread common feature is the introduction of ideophones via a verbum dicendi or complementizer Another observation concerns the sound symbolic behavior of ideophones Thus the word formation of ideophones differs from other words in their tendency for iconicity and sound symbolism Finally it is made clear that ideophones are part of spoken language the language register where gestures are used rather than written language

Resources in Education, 1994 Official Report of the ... Meeting of the ... Session of the ... Parliament Botswana. National Assembly, 1992 Weekly Parliamentary Debates Botswana. National Assembly, 2003 Botswana Herman M. Batibo, Birgit Smieja, 2000 The need of the national language Setswana to participate actively in society politics and democratisation as both national language and lingua franca of Botswana has caused language domination and suffocation on the part of the 25 or so minority languages. As a result, these languages are now going through a process of language shift and death. Consequently, their cultures too suffer great losses in order to keep pace with the mainstream society. The aim of the book is threefold: a) to inform the large public both local and international about the sociolinguistic and related issues regarding the minority languages of Botswana; b) to provide facts about the state and future trends of the minority languages in order to sensitise the public and the relevant authorities about the issues involved; and c) to present ideas and insights in order to stimulate academic debates on the minority languages. Linguists from Botswana as well as from Europe and U S A present their latest field research findings to shed light on the present situation of the minority languages.

Assessment of Reading in International Studies Jenny Lenkeit, Knut Schwippert, 2020-05-21. This book brings together contributions from different scholarly contexts that address a diverse range of focused topics as well as empirical and conceptual perspectives on research with international studies. Some chapters focus on technical aspects exploring opportunities for drawing causal inferences from the data and investigating biases originating in distributional scale properties. Others are of a more conceptual nature addressing changes in the relevance of socio-economic indicators across time and countries, examining the exposure of mother tongue and English instruction on performance and investigating the effects of test construction on gender difference. The discussion takes a much needed meta perspective on the usefulness of international large scale assessments for educational research and allows reflection upon possibilities and opportunities for their improvement. This book was originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education.

Modeling and Using Context Gábor Bella, Paolo Bouquet, 2019-11-12. This book constitutes the proceedings of the 11th International and Interdisciplinary Conference on Modeling and Using Context CONTEXT 2019 held in Trento Italy in November 2019. The 20 full papers and 4 invited talks presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 31 submissions. The papers feature research in a wide range of disciplines related to issues of context and contextual knowledge and discuss commonalities across and differences between the disciplines' approaches to the study of context. They cover a large spectrum of fields including philosophy of language and of science, computational papers on context-aware information systems, artificial intelligence and computational linguistics as well as cognitive and social sciences.
