Merchant Marine and Fisheries, 1969 Ocean Worlds Jan Zalasiewicz, Mark Williams, 2014-10-24 Oceans make up most of the surface of our blue planet They may form just a sliver on the outside of the Earth but they are very important not only in hosting life including the fish and other animals on which many humans depend but in terms of their role in the Earth system in regulating climate and cycling nutrients As climate change pollution and over exploitation by humans puts this precious resource at risk it is more important than ever that we understand and appreciate the nature and history of oceans There is much we still do not know about the story of the Earth's oceans and we are only just beginning to find indications of oceans on other planets In this book geologists Jan Zalasiewicz and Mark Williams consider the deep history of oceans how and when they may have formed on the young Earth topics of intense current research how they became salty and how they evolved through Earth history We learn how oceans have formed and disappeared over millions of years how the sea nurtured life and what may become of our oceans in the future We encounter some of the scientists and adventurers whose efforts led to our present understanding of oceans And we look at clues to possible seas that may once have covered parts of Mars and Venus that may still exist below the surface on moons such as Europa and Callisto and the possibility of watery planets in other star systems Mariners Weather Log, 1983

November issue includes abridged index to yearly volume The Role of the Indian Ocean for Global Peace - Interdisciplinary Issues Dr. (Capt.) Vivek Jain, 2023-11-02 This book deals with the various interdisciplinary issues of the Indian Ocean individually and collectively such as its history geography nautical elements economics trade routes old and new blue economy deep sea mining fisheries management tourism scourge of piracy pollution Law of the Sea UNCLOS 1982 and the different perspectives of its littoral countries on geopolitics international law international relations and maritime partnerships It is the most important ocean in the world 33% of the global population lives in the area and 50-60% of the world's maritime trade transits through it In addition around 60% of global oil and 26% of global gas reserves along with pristine beaches are located here To comprehend the interdisciplinary issues the editor embarked on a voyage to discover persuade and collaborate with exceptionally brilliant influential experts from prominent littoral countries India Indonesia Iran South Africa Malaysia and Singapore with relevant experience to expound the above subject areas In addition geopolitical conflicts hostilities and trade wars are on the rise war seems inevitable but not imminent Any conflict is likely to originate in other oceans and seas but will end up impacting the Indian Ocean's littoral countries Accordingly these countries must comprehend the interdisciplinary issues and the special role of the Indian Ocean to prevent all encompassing wars hostilities from widening at a global level and thereafter must flesh out plans to shield themselves They must also understand the area's role in working towards global peace by comprehending the above interdisciplinary issues The role of the Indian Ocean in global peace can only be achieved through maritime partnerships between its littoral countries and their avoidance of impulses to invite outside powers to balance each other's power However maritime partnerships are easier said than done

At the very least the maritime partnership between two major Indian Ocean littoral powers India and Indonesia is critical to shield the region from geopolitical firestorms Hopefully this maritime partnership s tactic of embracing a carrot and stick approach will eventually persuade global powers from outside the Indian Ocean region to improve their conduct to achieve global peace
