The Civil Rights Movement

The Civil Rights Movement is known as a period of time in the 1950s and 1960s that really began about 100 years earlier, after the American Civil War. The Civil Rights Movement occurred because of the desire for racial equality after the end of slavery in America.

After the Civil War, the American South was a very racist place. There were different segregation laws that kept people from being equal. There were segregation laws that kept people from being equal in schools, in public places, and in other ways. There were laws that kept people from being equal in many ways.

One of the first things that happened was that people started to fight back. They started to say that they were not going to accept the laws that kept them from being equal. They started to say that they were not going to accept the laws that kept them from being equal.
