Abstract

The non-observability was first an unfortunate process on early part of 1980. It has exposed the economic difficulties of the country and has led to a series of economic reforms. The reforms are in the form of liberalization, privatization, and globalization. The reforms have led to a series of economic changes in the country. The reforms have led to a series of economic changes in the country.

The large small-angle scattering signals with strong diffuse rings are typically observed for amorphous polymers. In some cases, diffuse streaks, spots and rings, that correspond to the crystal unit analysis [18] appeared for the studied case. However, the intensity is low in the studied area.
