Roads And Anthropology Ethnography Infrastructures Im Mobility:

Roads and Anthropology Dimitris Dalakoglou, Penelope Harvey, 2016-04-14 Roads and the powerful sense of mobility that they promise carry us back and forth between the sweeping narratives of globalisation and the specific tangible materialities of particular times and places Indeed despite the fact that roads might by comparison with the sparkling agility of virtual technologies appear to be grounded in twentieth century industrial political economy they could arguably be taken as the paradigmatic material infrastructure of the twenty first century supporting both the information society in the ever increasing circulation of commoditized goods and labour and the extractive economies of developing countries which the production and reproduction of such goods and labour depends Roads and Anthropology is the first collection of road ethnographies edited by two pioneers in the anthropological explorations of infrastructures the essays published in this book aim to pave the way for that rising field of anthropological research This book was published as a special issue of Mobilities

Roads and Anthropology Taylor & Francis Group, 2020-12-18 Roads and the powerful sense of mobility that they promise carry us back and forth between the sweeping narratives of globalisation and the specific tangible materialities of particular times and places Indeed despite the fact that roads might by comparison with the sparkling agility of virtual technologies appear to be grounded in twentieth century industrial political economy they could arguably be taken as the paradigmatic material infrastructure of the twenty first century supporting both the information society in the ever increasing circulation of commoditized goods and labour and the extractive economies of developing countries on which the production and reproduction of such goods and labour depends Roads and Anthropology is the first collection of road ethnographies edited by two pioneers in the anthropological explorations of infrastructures the essays published in the book aim to pave the way for this rising field of anthropological research This book was published as a special issue of Mobilities

The Road Dimitris Dalakoglou, 2017 This book is an ethnographic and historical study of the main Albania Greece highway But more than an ethnography on the road it is an anthropology of the road Highways are part of an explicit cultural material nexus that includes houses urban architecture and vehicles Complex socio political phenomena such as EU border security nationalist politics post Cold War capitalism and financial crises all leave their mark in the concrete This book explores anew classical anthropological and sociological categories of analysis in direct reference to infrastructure providing unique insights into the political and cultural processes that took place across Europe after the Cold War More specifically it sheds light on political and economic relationships in the Balkans during the socialist post Cold War period focusing especially on Albania one of the most under researched countries in the region Categories such as the house domestic life the city kinship money boundaries nationalism statecraft geographic mobility and distance to name but a few seem very different when seen from or on the road Infrastructures and Social Complexity Penelope Harvey, Casper Jensen, Atsuro Morita, 2016-10-04 Contemporary forms of infrastructural development herald alternative futures through their incorporation of digital technologies mobile capital international politics and the promises and fears of enhanced connectivity In tandem with increasing concerns about climate change and the anthropocene there is further an urgency around contemporary infrastructural provision a concern about its fragility and an awareness that these connective relational systems significantly shape both local and planetary futures in ways that we need to understand more clearly Offering a rich set of empirically detailed and conceptually sophisticated studies of infrastructural systems and experiments present and past contributors to this volume address both the transformative potential of infrastructural systems and their stasis Covering infrastructural figures their ontologies epistemologies classifications and politics and spanning development urban energy environmental and information infrastructures the chapters explore both the promises and failures of infrastructure Tracing the experimental histories of a wide range of infrastructures and documenting their variable outcomes the volume offers a unique set of analytical perspectives on contemporary infrastructural complications These studies bring a systematic empirical and analytical attention to human worlds as they intersect with more than human worlds whether technological or biological

A World History of Mobility Gijs Mom, 2025-08-01 As a tool of globalized mobility the car provides a useful barometer for charting the global development of socio cultural economic technical and political modernization Shaped by prevailing gender and racial norms and popularized by a Western driven car culture it is a commodity whose access and use embodies wider inequalities In this comprehensive world history of auto mobility Gijs Mom draws upon his extensive research into the field to assess the past and present of road cultures and hypothesize their future Ranging from the impact of climate change to decolonization this volume spotlights how profoundly automobilism impacts our sense of identity and imagination

Tricornia Migratory Camp Ahmed Correa Alvarez, John Ermer, 2024-12-15 Tricornia Migratory Camp Empire Public Health and Exclusion in Cuba s Ellis Island is a pioneering work that explores Tricornia Havana s immigration processing center Despite being overlooked Tricornia predates most immigration detention centers in the U S except for Ellis Island Both Ellis Island s current building and Tricornia opened in the same year 1900 Built during the U S first military occupation of Cuba it represented the cutting edge of modern nation building and public health infrastructure This volume offers an interdisciplinary perspective on Tricornia s importance by uniting scholars from literature history critical theory and anthropology This book illuminates the significance of migratory policy in the early Cuban Republic and its neocolonial relationship with the United States By focusing on Tricornia the contributors engage broader scholarly discussions on migration and border control imperialism and nation building memory public health race gender class and national identity

The Petro-state Masquerade Ryan Cecil Jobson, 2024-12-04 A historical and ethnographic study of the fraught relationship between fossil fuels and political power in Trinidad and Tobago Examining the past present and future of Trinidad and Tobago s oil and gas industries anthropologist Ryan Cecil Jobson traces how a model of governance fashioned during prior oil booms is imperiled by declining fossil fuel production and a loss of state control Despite the twin island nation's increasingly volatile and vulnerable financial condition however government officials continue to promote it as a land of inexhaustible resources and potentially limitless profits The result is what Jobson calls a masquerade of permanence whereby Trinbagonian state actors represent the nation as an interminable reserve of hydrocarbons primed for multinational investment In The Petro state Masquerade Jobson examines the gulf between this narrative crafted by the postcolonial state and the vexed realities of its dwindling petroleum fueled aspirations After more than a century of commercial oil production Trinidad and Tobago instructs us to regard the petro state as less a permanent form than a fragile relation between fossil fuels and sovereign authority Foregrounding the concurrent masquerades of oil workers activists and Carnival revelers Jobson argues that the promise of decolonization lies in the disarticulation of natural resources capital and political power by ordinary people in the Caribbean

Working the Fabric Joana Nascimento, 2023-04-14 Trademark protected since 1910 the famous woollen cloth known as Harris Tweed can only be produced in the Outer Hebrides of Scotland yet it is exported to over 50 countries around the world Examining contemporary experiences of work and life this book is the first in depth anthropological study of the renowned textile industry complementing and updating existing historical and ethnographic research Drawing on one year of ethnographic fieldwork research in the Outer Hebrides it offers an intimate account of industry workers lived experiences and contributes to anthropological debates on work and labour cultural production inclusive belonging and place making in global capitalism

The Routledge International Handbook of Existential Human Science Huon Wardle, Nigel Rapport, Albert Piette, 2023-08-01 This volume is the first handbook to explore existentialism as epistemology and method Transdisciplinary in scope it considers the nature of human subjectivity and how human experience ought to be studied examining the connections that exist between the individual's imagining of the world and their everyday practice within it With attention to the question of whether humans are ultimately alone in their self knowledge or whether what they know of themselves is constructed in common with others it enables the reader to recognize core questions that frame the methods and orientation of an existential inquiry In addition to historical exposition it offers a variety of chapters from around the world that explore the diverse global spaces for and different types of existential focus and discussion thus questioning the view that the existential problem may be singularly a matter for the post enlightenment West The fullest and most comprehensive survey to date of what human beings can and should make of themselves The Routledge International Handbook of Existential Human Science will appeal to scholars across the humanities and social sciences with interests in anthropology sociology philosophy and research methods

Groundwater Politics Sally Babidge, 2025-03-01 The mining industry is an expanding socio ecological and political problem worldwide not least in Atacama o Likanantay Indigenous territories in the hyper arid Salar de Atacama Chile Groundwater Politics addresses the social technical and political conditions it calls advanced extractivism to reveal how groundwater extraction sustains both ecological damage and mining economies It richly describes the area's copper and lithium industries as historically linked with Indigenous communities and their ecological and economic futures Based on over a decade of ethnographic research the book casts community strategies to control water and territory as slow resistance the structural and multifaceted practices that generate a material future amid potential resource exhaustion Audible Infrastructures Kyle Devine,Alexandrine Boudreault-Fournier,2021 Our day to day musical enjoyment seems so simple so easy so automatic Songs instantly emanate from our computers and phones at any time of day The tools for playing and making music such as records and guitars wait for us in stores ready for purchase and use And when we no longer need them we can leave them at the curb where they disappear effortlessly and without a trace These casual engagements often conceal the complex infrastructures that make our musical cultures possible Audible Infrastructures takes readers to the sawmills mineshafts power grids telecoms networks transport systems and junk piles that seem peripheral to musical culture and shows that they are actually pivotal to what music is how it works and why it matters Organized into three parts dedicated to the main phases in the social life and death of musical commodities resources and production circulation and transmission failure and waste this book provides a concerted archaeology of music s media infrastructures As contributors reveal the material environmental realities and political economic conditions of music and listening they open our eyes to the hidden dimensions of how music is made delivered and disposed of In rethinking our responsibilities as musicians and listeners this book calls for nothing less than a reconsideration of how music comes to sound Forest Lost Maron E. Greenleaf,2024-10-07 Forest Lost is an ethnography of forest carbon offsets and the wider effort to make the living rainforest valuable in the Brazilian Amazon City Life in Africa Katja Werthmann,2022-07-27 This book introduces readers to the anthropology of urban life in Africa showing what ethnography can teach us about African city dwellers own notions practices and reflections Social anthropologists have studied city life in Africa since the early 20th century Their works have addressed a number of questions that are relevant until today What happens to rural people who move to the city What kinds of livelihoods do they pursue How does city life affect moralities and practices connected with gender roles marriage parenthood and intergenerational relations In which social situations are ethnic and other collective identifications relevant How do people make a home in the city What forms of authority and leadership become relevant in urban governance How do people talk about city life This book asks what anthropologists have come to learn about Africans views on city life It provides a critical acclaim of ethnographies in English French and German and elucidates anthropology s contribution to understanding city life in Africa It highlights the significance of female African and Diaspora scholars for an emerging urban anthropology of Africa The chapters are organized according to everyday activities of city dwellers moving connecting governing working dwelling and wayfinding The book will be an essential read for students and researchers of social anthropology African and urban studies but also for professionals in research and development organizations thinktanks and other institutions concerned with urban Africa Conflicts in Urban Future-Making Monika Grubbauer,Alessandra Manganelli,Louis Volont,2024-11-22 Under conditions of heightened uncertainty cities face enormous challenges in responding to contemporary crises The contributors to this volume explore the conflictual dynamics that arise when urban futures are imagined negotiated and materialized Through the lens of urban future making they provide a timely analysis of the conflicts that shape planning projects architectural interventions and new experiments in the built environment Their analyses show how urban future making is conditioned by conflicting governance arrangements actor constellations and power dynamics offering rich insight into the critical role of professionals as key agents of urban transformation

Post-Socialist Urban Infrastructures (OPEN ACCESS) Tauri Tuvikene,Wladimir Sgibnev,Carola S. Neugebauer,2019-05-15 Post Socialist Urban Infrastructures critically elaborates on often forgotten but some of the most essential aspects of contemporary urban life namely infrastructures and links them to a discussion of post socialist transformation As the skeletons of cities infrastructures capture the ways in which urban environments are assembled and urban lives unfold Focusing on post socialist cities marked by neoliberalisation polarisation and hybridity this book offers new and enriching perspectives on urban infrastructures by centering on the often marginalised aspects of urban research transport green spaces and water and heating provision Featuring cases from West and East alike the book covers examples from Azerbaijan Bulgaria Serbia Croatia Germany Russia Georgia Lithuania Poland the Czech Republic Tajikistan and India It provides original insights into the infrastructural back end of post socialist cities for scholars planners and activists interested in urban geography cultural and social anthropology and urban studies

The Politics of Relations André Thiemann,2024-06-01 Rethinking the contributions of the Manchester School of Social Anthropology for political ethnography the Politics of Relations elaborates its relational approach to the state along four interlaced axes of research embeddedness boundary work modalities and strategic selectivity that enable thick comparisons across spatio temporal scales of power In Serbia local experiences of self government infrastructure and care motivate its citizens to become the state while cursing it heartily While both officials and citizens strive for a state that enables a normal life they navigate the increasingly illiberal politics enacted by national parties and which are tolerated by trans national donors

The Promise of Infrastructure Nikhil Anand,Akhil Gupta,Hannah Appel,2018-07-16 From U S Mexico border walls to Flint s poisoned pipes there is a new urgency to the politics of infrastructure Roads electricity lines water pipes and oil installations promise to distribute the resources necessary for everyday life Yet an attention to their ongoing processes also reveals how infrastructures are made with fragile and often violent relations among people materials and institutions While infrastructures promise modernity and development their breakdowns and absences reveal the underbelly of progress liberal equality and economic growth This tension between aspiration and failure makes infrastructure a productive location for social theory Contributing to the everyday lives of infrastructure across four continents some of the leading anthropologists of infrastructure demonstrate in The Promise of Infrastructure how these more than human assemblages made over more than human lifetimes offer new opportunities to theorize time politics and promise in the contemporary moment A School for

Advanced Research Advanced Seminar Contributors Nikhil Anand Hannah Appel Geoffrey C Bowker Dominic Boyer Akhil Gupta Penny Harvey Brian Larkin Christina Schwenkel Antina von Schnitzler Unsettling Mobility Michelle Lelièvre, 2017-04-11 Since contact attempts by institutions such as the British Crown and the Catholic Church to assimilate indigenous peoples have served to mark those people as Other than the settler majority In Unsettling Mobility Michelle A Lelièvre examines how mobility has complicated disrupted and at times served this contradiction at the core of the settler colonial project Drawing on archaeological ethnographic and archival fieldwork conducted with the Pictou Landing First Nation one of thirteen Mi'kmaq communities in Nova Scotia Lelièvre argues that for the British Crown and the Catholic Church mobility has been required not only for the settlement of the colony but also for the management and conversion of the Mi'kmaq For the Mi'kmaq their continued mobility has served as a demonstration of sovereignty over their ancestral lands and waters despite the encroachment of European settlers Unsettling Mobility demonstrates the need for an anthropological theory of mobility that considers not only how people move from one place to another but also the values associated with such movements and the sensual perceptions experienced by moving subjects Unsettling Mobility argues that anthropologists indigenous scholars and policy makers must imagine settlement beyond sedentism Rather both mobile and sedentary practices the narratives associated with those practices and the embodied experiences of them contribute to how people make places in other words to how they settle Unsettling Mobility arrives at a moment when indigenous peoples in North America are increasingly using movement as a form of protest in ways that not only assert their political subjectivity but also remake the nature of that subjectivity Temple Tracks Vineeta Sinha, 2023-08-11 The notions of labour mobility and piety have a complex and intertwined relationship Using ethnographic methods and a historical perspective Temple Tracks critically outlines the interlink of railway construction in colonial and post colonial Asia as well as the anthropology of infrastructure and transnational mobilities with religion In Malaysia and Singapore evidence of religion making and railway building from a colonial past is visible in multiple modes and media as memories recollections and traces Infrastructure and the Remaking of Asia Max Hirsh, Till Mostowlansky, 2022-10-31 In the twenty first century infrastructure has undergone a seismic shift from West to East Once concentrated in Europe and North America global infrastructure production today is focused squarely on Asia Infrastructure and the Remaking of Asia investigates the deeper implications of that pivot to the East Written by leading international infrastructure experts it demonstrates how new roads airports pipelines and cables are changing Asian economies societies and geopolitics from the Bosphorus to Beijing and from Indonesia to the Arctic Ten tightly interwoven case studies powerfully illustrate infrastructure's leading role in three global paradigm shifts climate change digitalization and China's emergence as a superpower Combining social science methods with mapping techniques from the design professions Infrastructure and the Remaking of Asia establishes a dialogue between academic research on infrastructure and the professional insights of those responsible for infrastructure's planning production and operation By

applying that mixed method to transport energy telecommunication and resource extraction projects across Asia the book synthesizes research on infrastructure from six academic fields while making those insights accessible to a wider audience of students professionals and the general public For links to the open access PDF and EPUB editions chapter downloads and detailed information visit the project website <https://infrastructureasia.net>
