Conrad set his novel in the mining town of Sulaco, an imaginary port in the western region of the imaginary country Costaguana. In his Author's Note to early editions of Nostromo, Joseph Conrad provides a detailed explanation of the inspirational origins of his novel. There he relates how, as a young man of about seventeen while serving aboard a ship in the Gulf of Mexico, he heard the story of a man who had stolen single-handedly a whole lighter full of silver. As Conrad goes on to relate, he forgot about the story until some twenty-five years later when he came across a travelogue in a used book shop in which the author related how he worked for years aboard a schooner whose master claimed to be that very thief who had stolen the silver.
