Negotiating the Personal in Creative Writing Carl Vandermeulen, 2011-08-19 This book describes an alternative way to teach Creative Writing one that replaces the silent writer taking criticism and advice from the teacher led workshop with an active writer who reflects upon and publically questions the work in progress in order to solicit response from a writers group as well as from the teacher Both accompany the writer first as readers and fellow writers only later as critics Because writers ask they listen and dialogues with responders become an inner dialogue that guides later writing and revision But when teachers accompany writers teaching CW becomes even more a negotiation of the personal because this teacher who is listener and mentor is also a model for some students of the writer and even the person they would like to become and still the Authority who gives the grades

A Rhetoric of Reflection Kathleen Yancey, 2016-08-15 Reflection in writing studies is now entering a third generation. Dating from the 1970s the first generation of reflection focused on identifying and describing internal cognitive processes assumed to be part of composing. The second generation operating in both classroom and assessment scenes in the 1990s developed mechanisms for externalizing reflection making it visible and thus explicitly available to help writers. Now a third generation of work in reflection is emerging. As mapped by the contributors to A Rhetoric of Reflection this iteration of research and practice is taking up new questions in new sites of activity and with new theories. It comprises attention to transfer of writing knowledge and practice teaching and assessment.

portfolios linguistic and cultural difference and various media including print and digital It conceptualizes conversation as a primary reflective medium both inside and outside the classroom and for individuals and collectives and articulates the role that different genres play in hosting reflection Perhaps most important in the work of this third generation is the identification and increasing appreciation of the epistemic value of reflection of its ability to help make new meanings and of its rhetorical power for both scholars and students Contributors Anne Beaufort Kara Taczak Liane Robertson Michael Neal Heather Ostman Cathy Leaker Bruce Horner Asao B Inoue Tyler Richmond J Elizabeth Clark Naomi Silver Christina Russell McDonald Pamela Flash Kevin Roozen Jeff Sommers Doug Hesse
