Geschlecht und Postmoderne Johanna Bundschuh-van Duikeren, 2014 English summary Little research has been conducted so far on the deconstruction of essentialist and binary concepts of gender in postmodernist texts This book aims at filling this gap for the case of the postmodernist Dutch language novel by an exemplary re reading of four core postmodernist writers First it examines the circumstances that led to a theoretical association of postmodernist poststructuralist and feminist thought which resulted in the underlying assumption that in postmodern texts the dichotomy between man and woman is replaced with hybrid identities Secondly the dissertation introduces the adaptation that literary theory has made of possible world theory as a model of the text world relationship which is meant to shed light over the question of a feminist approach to literature which rejects the idea of referentiality

Based on this approach 15 novels are subjected to a detailed critical re reading from a gender perspective The analysis shows that in many cases gender still functions as a naturalized and relatively stable category within a dichotomic scheme whereas other binary terms reality fiction life death self other are deconstructed by the literary texts as well as the concept of a unique and distinctive identity This way the postmodern concepts of gender displayed in the novels can be characterized as mainly essentialist German description Wie steht es um die Geschlechterdifferenz in postmoderner Literatur Zur Beantwortung dieser Frage wird exemplarisch das Romanwerk von vier niederlandischen und flamischen Schriftstellern herangezogen Dabei wird ein methodischer Zugang entwickelt der es ermöglicht postmoderne Texte ideologiekritischen Lektüren zu unterziehen ohne deren strukturelle Komplexität zu negieren Die so generierte Analyse liefert ein überraschendes Ergebnis Sie zeigt dass eine binär oppositionelle und essentialistisch verstandene Geschlechtlichkeit auch in postmodernen Texten weitgehend als Ordnungsprinzip funktioniert während in der Forschung oft und wie sich erweist allzu generalisierend von einer Dekonstruktion aller Dichotomien ausgegangen wird

Narratives of Low Countries History and Culture Jane Fenoulhet,Lesley Gilbert,Ulrich Tiedau,2016-11-07 This edited collection explores the ways in which our understanding of the past in Dutch history and culture can be rethought to consider not only how it forms part of the present but how it can relate also to the future Divided into three parts The Uses of Myth and History The Past as Illumination of Cultural Context and Historiography in Focus this book seeks to demonstrate the importance of the past by investigating the transmission of culture and its transformations It reflects on the history of historiography and looks critically at the products of the historiographic process such as Dutch and Afrikaans literary history The chapters cover a range of disciplines and approaches some authors offer a broad view of a particular period such as Jonathan Israel's contribution on myth and history in the ideological politics of the Dutch Golden Age while others zoom in on specific genres texts or historical moments such as Benjamin Schmidt's study of the doolhof a word that today means labyrinth but once

Brian Newsome, 2009 French Urban Planning 1940 1968 explores the creation and progressive dismantling of France's centralized authoritarian system of urban and architectural planning Established in the wake of World War II to facilitate the reconstruction and expansion of cities this planning program led to the evolution of large suburban housing estates plagued by inter intra family conflict juvenile delinquency and other social difficulties which sociologists connected to poor planning and design Critics began calling for the democratization of planning to remedy design problems and the government of Charles de Gaulle started reforming planning procedures in the late 1950s and early 1960s This book moves beyond technical and political issues to explore forces of religion gender and class that affected planning practices Key critics and state officials emerged from the Catholic Left Some were women from working class backgrounds and they manipulated gender stereotypes to insert working and middle class women into the design process Sometimes in opposition but often together these reformers initiated the most significant change of architectural and urban planning until the introduction of François Mitterrand's decentralization reforms in the 1980s French Urban Planning 1940 1968 will appeal to scholars and students interested in architectural urban and social trends in twentieth century France
