1) How Method?

1. What methodological problems could be expected if you did observational research without having planned the study in a particular way?
There are several disadvantages to not having a plan. First, you cannot control the environment. Second, you cannot control the timing of the observations. Third, you cannot control the duration of the observations. Fourth, you cannot control the location of the observations. Fifth, you cannot control the observer's bias. Sixth, you cannot control the observer's expectations. Seventh, you cannot control the observer's interpretation of the data. Eighth, you cannot control the observer's reporting of the data. Ninth, you cannot control the observer's use of the data. Tenth, you cannot control the observer's communication of the data.
