

TITLE: The X Game

GENRE: supernatural horror

OVERVIEW

It was a pleasure to read your novel, The X Game. The title itself evokes a sense of play and mystery—what is the X? And what kind of game is it?

In critiquing your novel, I read it first as a reader, then again as an editor. Although you will find occasional comments inserted in bubbles in the electronic manuscript, the majority of my feedback is summarized here in this critique. I will close this critique with my editorial recommendations and final words.

PLOT & STRUCTURE

This has all the elements of a classic horror story. From the beginning, the main character, a leader of a mysterious order, turns off the security system inside the manor, immediately cueing the reader that the protagonist is about to do something clandestine. There is an underground tunnel and secret doors, and rumors of frightful things inside the forest. By the end of the prologue, it's clear from the tropes you use that this is a horror story with Gothic elements, and that from this point on, things are only going to get worse—in a delicious, thrilling way.

You wisely start in the middle of the action and propel the protagonist—and the reader—into the unknown, which we know is going to be dangerous. There are encounters—with a mysterious creature and an attack by wolves—that keep the action going and the reader reading—all good.

After Egri is rescued by Jordan (perhaps too conveniently?) and taken to the manor, he is confronted by a stranger—Marlo—who is the one who summoned him in the first place. What Egri does not know, but we readers know, is that Marlo is not a normal human being. In fact, he too is a supernatural creature, possibly a vampire. In other words, the protagonist is not really safe nor is he in an ordinary place, but rather he has entered an extraordinary world, and that as much as he wishes to turn back, it is too late.

Overall, the plot is unfolding naturally—or perhaps I should say, classically. The danger in taking this approach is that a sophisticated reader of horror is not going to find much here that is fresh and new in the way of storytelling. But if it's an ordinary horror story that you're hoping to provide, then I think that's what you have here.

TITLE: My Hollywood

GENRE: memoir

OVERVIEW

It was a pleasure to work on your book, My Hollywood. As a reader I learned a great deal about the impact of consumer culture on women and the empty feminine ideals it promotes. And I learned much about you, a writer, thinker, and woman who has been brave enough to pull all the stops and reflect on your upbringing and analyze the forces that have influenced your life. The voice you write with is smart, wisecracking, and honest; a voice that young women today can relate with. I think your book will speak to many women who struggle with the same issues you once faced [...] in the process of becoming a Hollywood desirable.

What follows is an overview of the strengths and weaknesses of your manuscript and includes editorial recommendations on what and how to revise it. Be prepared to do several more rounds of revisions, with each revision bringing your book closer to perfection and the fulfillment of your vision.

STRUCTURE

The structure you have now is not consistently linear, and the links from one topic to the next are not often clear. [...] Your timeline is a bit shuffled, with a chapter of your life post-college coming before a chapter on your college years. It's better in this instance to tell your story chronologically so as to give your book some structure and order.

Breaking up your book into three acts works fine. Starting Act I after the introductory chapter is good. And having Act II at the start of your college years is also a good choice. But I suggest moving chapter 6 to Act II since it deals with your college years, not high school. As for Act III, consider starting it at chapter 18—which is after your stint as a script reader. The last sentence of chapter 17 rings a satisfying death knell for the end of Act II and segues nicely to chapter 18.

I also recommend creating a new chapter—between chapters 3 and 4—that focuses on [...]. I also suggest breaking up chapter 4 into two separate chapters (see page 28 of your manuscript).
