We encourage the submission of manuscripts addressing the above topic and those which fit within one of the following three sub themes i Perspectives or review articles which explore the niche best practices or promising approaches in agile data oriented research tools for smallholder farm system transformation Also technology and code articles that describe new tools are welcomed ii Original research articles presenting analyses based on data derived from agile data oriented tools used at the project level Examples include impact evaluations adoption studies targeting studies or adaptive management and should reflect on the additional benefit leveraged by the agile method applied iii Original research articles that make use of the large amounts of data generated by such agile methods and or link between agile data and other data sources Examples include meta analyses of data from multiple studies layering data collected from different agile tools or linking agile data to remote sensing or large scale modeling outputs

User-centered Requirements Karen L. McGraw, Karan Harbison, 2020-11-26 Developing today's complex systems requires more than just good software engineering solutions Many are faced with complex systems projects incomplete or inaccurate requirements canceled projects or cost overruns and have their systems users in revolt and demanding more Others want to build user centric systems but fear managing the process

This book describes an approach that brings the engineering process together with human performance engineering and business process reengineering. Unlike some texts that are primarily conceptual, this volume provides guidelines, how-to information, and examples enabling the reader to quickly apply the process and techniques to accomplish the following goals: define high quality requirements, enhance productive client involvement, help clients maintain competitiveness, ensure client buy in and support throughout the process, reduce missing functionality and corrections, and improve user satisfaction with systems. This volume clearly details the role of user centered requirements and knowledge acquisition within Scenario Based Engineering Process (SEP) and identifies SEP products and artifacts. It assists project personnel in planning and managing effective requirements activities, including managing risks, avoiding common problems with requirements elicitation, organizing project participants and tools, and managing the logistics. Guidelines are provided for the following: selecting the right individual and group techniques to elicit scenarios and requirements from users, subject matter experts, or other shareholders; and ensuring engineers or analysts have the necessary skills.
