Parkhouse, Jackie Lapin, 1980 Sidelined Simon Henderson, 2013-03-28 In 1968 noted sociologist Harry Edwards established the Olympic Project for Human Rights calling for a boycott of that year's games in Mexico City as a demonstration against racial discrimination in the United States and around the world. Though the boycott never materialized, Edwards's ideas struck a chord with athletes and incited African American Olympians Tommie Smith and John Carlos to protest by raising their black gloved fists on the podium after receiving their medals. Sidelined draws upon a wide range of historical materials and more than forty oral histories with athletes and administrators to explore how the black athletic revolt used professional and college sports to promote the struggle for civil rights in the late 1960s. Author Simon Henderson argues that contrary to popular perception, sports reinforced the status quo since they relegated black citizens to stereotypical roles in society. By examining activists' successes and failures in promoting racial equality on one of the most public stages in the world, Henderson sheds new light on an often overlooked subject and gives voice to those who fought for civil rights both on the field and off. Standard Catalog of Sports Autographs Tom Mortenson, 2000. Where Are Our Boys? Martin Woods,2016-08-01 In 1914 the newspaper map or newsmap began to supply readers with the geographical backdrop to the Great War an important tool in explaining the progress of the war to the public at home Day by day for every campaign and battle readers across the nation were deluged with maps both in the pages of newspapers and pasted up in town and city streets allowing them to follow Australian and Allied exploits Drawn from scant news cables out of date cartography and the writer s imagination a semi fictional war story emerged of ANZAC successes and sometimes disasters Our boys were in Egypt Palestine Gallipoli Belgium Germany and France in towns and villages most Australians had never heard of Soon these places were being discussed with growing expertise over maps in homes pubs churches and clubs Those following the war at home were never allowed too close as censorship rules dictated when maps could be published Yet Where Are Our Boys is not simply about propaganda Maps in newspapers tracked the war s many campaigns and the exploits of our boys but most importantly allowed those at home to feel close to their brothers husbands fathers uncles neighbours and cousins Maps naturally became central to commemorating events people and places The war produced more maps than any time before in history giving us along the way some of the most beautiful and sometimes misleading maps ever published Where Are Our Boys tells the story of how the war was fought and won from the opening salvos in 1914 to Gallipoli and victory on the Western Front In the end though these maps were needed most to help understand the conflict and to comprehend the great human costs
