WORKSHEET

Global Population Distribution

Global population distribution shows where people live and how they live. It is the study of the world's population.

Population Density

- The world's population is unevenly distributed across the globe.
- The majority of people live in densely populated areas.
- The majority of people live in areas where density is higher than the world average.
- The majority of people live in areas where density is lower than the world average.
- The majority of people live in areas where density is higher than the world average.

Population Density and Distribution

Some areas of the world are densely populated (crowded), while others are sparsely populated (empty). This is because of the way people live and the way the world is shaped.

Factors influencing where people live:

Physical factors: climate, relief, accessibility, economic activities and services, social services.

Low density

Population density is the number of people living in a given area. It is calculated by dividing the total population by the total area.
