Performance And The Contemporary City Palgrave Macm 2010:

Performance and the Contemporary City Nicolas Whybrow, 2020-05-15 Cities with their rising populations and complex configurations have become key symbols of a fast changing modernity This timely collection gathers together various urban writings from a range of relevant disciplines including architecture geography sociology visual art ethnography and psychoanalysis Its focus however is performance Underscoring the importance of the field it shows how performance functions as a dynamic interdisciplinary mechanism which is central not only to understanding the multiplicity of urban living but also to the way the identities of cities are shaped Gathering together key writings on the city and performance by authors ranging from Walter Benjamin to Tim Etchells to Carl Lavery the reader can be navigated in any number of ways Supported by extensive introductory material it will be essential and evocative reading for anyone interested in making connections between performance and urban life The Oxford Handbook of Shakespeare and Performance James C.

Bulman, 2017-11-16 The Oxford Handbooks to Shakespeare are designed to record past and present investigations and renewed and revised judgments by both familiar and younger Shakespeare specialists Each of these volumes is edited by one or more internationally distinguished Shakespeareans together they comprehensively survey the entire field Shakespearean performance criticism has firmly established itself as a discipline accessible to scholars and general readers alike And just as performances of the plays expand audiences understanding of how Shakespeare speaks to them so performance criticism is continually shifting the contours of the discipline The 36 contributions in this volume represent the most current approaches to Shakespeare in performance They are divided into four parts Part I explores how experimental modes of performance ensure Shakespeare's contemporaneity Part II tackles the burgeoning field of reception how and why audiences respond to performances as they do Part III addresses the ways in which technology has revolutionized our access to Shakespeare both through the mediums of film and sound recording and through digitalization Part IV grapples with global Shakespeare considering matters of cultural appropriation in productions played for international audiences Together these ground breaking essays attest to the richness and diversity of Shakespearean performance criticism as it is practiced today

Performance and Participation Anna Six, Helen Nicholson, 2017-09-16 This edited collection gathers together leading voices in theatre and performance studies to debate the politics of participation and find points of connection across a range of performative forms including community theatre live art applied theatre one to one performance and marathon running Arranged in three sections Recognising Participation Labours of Participation and Authoring Participation the book raises productive questions about how and why audiences are encouraged to participate in creating the artistic work This intersection the authors suggest blurs the boundaries between producer and consumer promising modes of engagement that are at once political social and aesthetic Applying theoretical ideas to concrete discussions of practice this is an ideal resource for undergraduate and postgraduate students of applied theatre political and socially engaged theatre participatory

Off Sites Bertie Ferdman, 2018-07-30 Honorable Mention ATHE s 2018

Outstanding Book Award Contextualizing the techniques and methods of the incredibly rich and vital genre of site specific performance author Bertie Ferdman traces the evolution of that term Originally used for experimental staging practices and then later also for engaged situational events site specific is no longer sufficient for the genre s many contemporary variations Using the term off site Ferdman illustrates five distinct ways artists have challenged the disciplinary framework of site specific theatre blurring the traditional boundaries between the fictional and the real changing how the audience and actor interact with each other and whether they are physically together or apart fabricating sites from physically bound conceptually constructed or virtual spaces staging live situations in real nonreal and often mediated encounters and challenging our preconceived notions of time and space Tracing the genealogy of site based work through the twentieth and twenty first centuries Ferdman outlines the theoretical groundwork for her study in the introduction Individual chapters focus on distinct types of off sites the interdisciplinary discourse of disciplinary sites the spaces of audience engagement with spectator sites the dislocation of time for temporal sites and the historiographical spaces of mapping for urban sites Ferdman examines site based work being done in the Americas by contemporary companies and artists experimenting with new forms and practices for site driven theatre Key productions discussed include Private Moment by David Levine Geyser Land by Mary Ellen Strom and Ann Carlson Jim Findlay s Dream of the Red Chamber and Lola Arias Mi Vida Despu s

Urban Sensographies Nicolas Whybrow, 2020-12-30 Urban Sensographies views the human body as a highly nuanced sensor to explore how various performance based methods can be implemented to gather usable felt data about the environment of the city as the basis for creating embodied mappings The contributors to this fascinating volume seek to draw conclusions about the constitution character and morphology of urban space as public habitable and sustainable by monitoring the reactions of the human body as a form of urban sensor This co authored book is centrally concerned as a symptom of the degree to which cities are evolving in the 21st century to examine the effects of this change on the practices and behaviours of urban dwellers This takes into account such factors as defensible retail and consumer space legacies of modernist design in the built environment the effects of surveillance technologies motorised traffic and smart phone use the integration of wild as well as domesticated nature in urban planning and living and the effects of urban pollution on the earth s climate Drawing on three years of funded practical research carried out by a multi medial team of researchers and artists this book analyses the presence and movement of the human body in urban space which is essential reading for academics and practitioners in the fields of dance film visual art sound technology digital media and performance studies

Performance and Civic

Engagement Ananda Breed, Tim Prentki, 2017-11-17 This book explores civic engagement as a politically active encounter between institutions individuals and art practices that addresses the public sphere on a civic level across physical and virtual spaces Taking a multidisciplinary approach it tracks across the overlapping discourses of politics cultural geography and performance investigating how and why physical and digital spaces can be analysed and utilised to develop new art forms that challenge traditional notions of how performance is political and how politics are performative Across three sections Politicising Communities Applying Digital Agency and Performing Landscapes and Identities the ten chapters and three interviews cover a wide variety of international perspectives all informed by innovative ways of addressing the current crisis of social fragmentation through performance Providing access to many debates on the theory and practice of new media this book is of significance to readers from a broad set of academic disciplines including politics sociology geography and performance studies

Inhabiting the Meta Visual: Contemporary Performance Themes Helene G. Markstein, Arthur Maria Steijn, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 Theatre and the many varied expressions of performance practice in live and mediated performance forms are by their nature inter disciplinary The goal of this volume is to develop discussion with a focus on the visual aspects of performance brought up by artists and researchers in various performance disciplines and practices The volume facilitates inter personal communication and the exchange of global perspectives to engage a community in meaningful dialogue Scenography describes the discipline of performing arts which include all elements of theatrical presentation As a definition here it is useful for this volume because it outlines the understanding of scenographic practice as a combination of numerous theatre practices that collaborate and include architecture lighting costume make up sound settings and stage properties movement as well as audience participation

Asian City Crossings Rossella Ferrari, Ashley Thorpe, 2021-05-17 Asian City Crossings is the first volume to examine the relationship between the city and performance from an Asian perspective This collection introduces city as method as a new conceptual framework for the investigation of practices of city based performing arts collaboration and city to city performance networks across East and Southeast Asia and beyond The shared and yet divergent histories of the global cities of Hong Kong and Singapore as postcolonial multiethnic multicultural and multilingual sites are taken as points of departure to demonstrate how city as method facilitates a comparative analytical space that foregrounds in betweenness and fluid positionalities It situates inter Asian relationality and inter city referencing as centrally significant dynamics in the exploration of the material and ideological conditions of contemporary performance and performance exchange in Asia This study captures creative dialogue that travels city based pathways along the Hong Kong Singapore route as well as between Hong Kong and Singapore and other cities through scholarly analyses and practitioner reflections drawn from the fields of theatre performance and music This book combines essays by scholars of Asian studies theatre studies ethnomusicology and human geography with reflective accounts by Hong Kong and Singapore based performing arts practitioners to highlight the diversity vibrancy and complexity of creative projects that destabilise notions of identity belonging and nationhood through strategies of collaborative conviviality and transnational mobility across multi sited networks of cities in Asia In doing so this volume fills a considerable gap in global scholarly discourse on performance and the city and on the production and circulation of the performing arts in Asia Brutal Beauty Jisha Menon, 2021-10-15 Brutal Beauty Aesthetics and Aspiration in Urban India follows a postcolonial city as it transforms into a bustling global metropolis after the liberalization of the Indian economy Taking the once idyllic garden city of Bangalore in southern India as its point of departure the book explores how artists across India and beyond foreground neoliberalism as a structure of feeling permeating aesthetics selfhood and everyday life Jisha Menon conveys the affective life of the city through multiple aesthetic projects that express a range of urban feelings including aspiration panic and obsolescence As developers and policymakers remodel the city through tumultuous construction projects urban beautification privatization and other templated features of world class cities urban citizens are also changing transformed by nostalgia narcissism shame and the spaces where they dwell and work Sketching out scenes of urban aspiration and its dark underbelly Menon delineates the creative and destructive potential of India's lurch into contemporary capitalism uncovering the interconnectedness of local and global power structures as well as art's capacity to absorb and critique liberalization's discontents She argues that neoliberalism isn't just an economic social and political phenomenon neoliberalism is also a profoundly aesthetic project Performing New Orleans Stuart Andrews, Patrick Duggan, 2025-08-20 Performing New Orleans examines the value of arts and culture in managing complex urban challenges offering new perspectives on how artistic and everyday performances can be pivotal modes of practicing resilience Through an exploration of understudied forms of performance in New Orleans Stuart Andrews and Patrick Duggan highlight the centrality of the city's arts ecosystems as a vital aspect of its ability to perform resiliency Performing New Orleans resists conventional definitions of arts practice instead it uses a diverse array of case studies to illustrate what arts practices are what they do and how they can enhance our understanding of people place and resilience The case studies in this volume range from playing in the streets to painting murals from tourist flourishes to the performative effect of infrastructure projects from the design and leadership of arts centers to the unfolding of festivals theater performances art installations and even public health messaging The authors also review critique and rethink resilience theory and the often problematic idea of being resilient Andrews and Duggan bring together ideas from art and architecture cultural geography hazard mitigation resilience theory sustainability theater and water management to explore performances of the city to radically expand our understanding of urban adaptability Performing New Orleans argues that a truly resilient city is one that recognizes arts and culture professionals as crucial critical innovators Performing Dream Homes Emily Klein, Jennifer-Scott Mobley, Jill Stevenson, 2019-01-22 This anthology explores how theatre and performance use home as the prism through which we reconcile shifts in national cultural and personal identity Whether examining parlor dramas and kitchen sink realism site specific theatre travelling tent shows domestic labor border performances fences or front yards these essays demonstrate how dreams of home are enmeshed with notions of neighborhood community politics and memory Recognizing the family home as a symbolic space that extends far beyond its walls the nine contributors to this collection
