Missional fatherhood as praxis to Christian families who grapple with father absence Fazel Ebrihiam

Freeks,2021-12-01 All human beings are made in the image of God and form part of God's creation. Families per se are valuable to God and they can be infused with God-given solutions biblically based to the challenges they are facing. One of these challenges are father absence and it is a devastated social ill in many communities. Even so, missional fatherhood can be a buffer against father absence, un-involvement of fathers and numerous family issues. Missional fathers are filled with a God-given mission aiming to instil a love for Christ in the hearts of their children. They are not only called but obliged to lead sacrificial lives for the sake of their families. Their hearts engage with their children on aspects in life that matters the most. Transforming their minds by the Word of God and serving God the Father is far-reaching. Missional fathers are not only disciple makers in their homes but also in their respective communities. This present-day notion is God's calling on every father to be part of the Gospel and God's holistic mission and is in response to Jesus's Great Commission to make disciples of all people including families. All who decided and turn to the way of Jesus Christ form part of the mission that God had given the Son.

The Politics of Religious Sound Justice Anquandah Arthur, 2018. Justice Arthur presents a wealth of intriguing material, an impressive thick description of the conflict and a thorough analysis of the many very complex factors that contribute to the conflict. His work on the multiple dimensions of the conflict is knowledgeable, comprehensive and plausible, and it clearly shows that the so-called religious conflicts are never about religion only. Prof. Dr. Eva Spies, University of Bayreuth, Germany. Justice A. Arthur has laid out a multidisciplinary, multi-perspective and long-term analysis of the clashes on the noise ban in Accra. The chapters are convincingly set up in order to manage the complexity of approaches covering religious studies, theology, mission studies as well as anthropology, legal and political studies. Prof. Andreas Heuser, University of Basel, Switzerland. Proceedings of International Conference on 3D Printing Technology and Innovations 2017 on legal aid in a comparative perspective and allows readers to analogise and contrast historical narratives about free legal aid across countries. Legal aid developed as a result of industrialisation, urbanization, immigration, the rise of philanthropy and what were viewed as new legal problems. Closely related was the growing professionalisation of lawyers and the question of what duties lawyers owed society to perform free work. Yet legal aid providers in many countries included lay women and men leading at times to tensions with the bar. Furthermore, legal aid often became deeply politicized, creating dramatic conflicts concerning the rights of the poor to have equal access to justice.

Gender and Careers in the Legal Academy
Ulrike Schultz, Gisela Shaw, Margaret Thornton, Rosemary Auchmuty, 2021-02-25

In the past fifteen years there has been a marked increase in the international scholarship relating to women in law. The lives and careers of women in legal practice and the judiciary have been extensively documented and critiqued, but the central conundrum remains: Does the presence of women make a difference? What has been largely overlooked in the literature is the position of women in the legal academy, although central to the changing culture. To remedy the oversight, an international network of scholars embarked on a comparative study which resulted in this path-breaking book. The contributors uncover fascinating accounts of the careers of the academic pioneers, as well as exploring broader theoretical issues relating to gender and culture. The provocative question as to whether the presence of women makes a difference informs each contribution.

Cape Town, South Africa. 7 Sept 2016. 8 Sept 2016. Theme: Sustainable economies in the information economy. Purpose: To share the quality academic papers presented at the International Conference on Business and Management Dynamics (ICBMD) held from 7 to 8 September 2016 at African Pride Crystal Hotel and Spa in Cape Town. As grey literature, the proceedings are the contributions made by researchers at the conference and are considered the written record of the work that was presented to fellow conference delegates.

Methodology The methodology used varies from researcher to researcher but is suitable for the studies conducted. Thus, on the one hand, studies that were subjective in nature used the interpretive paradigm where the qualitative approach adopted made use of the interview method to collect data. On the other hand, studies that were objectively inclined adopted the positivist philosophy and used survey questionnaires to collect data. However, there were some academic papers which used mixed methodology because of the nature of the study. Whatever methodology used adhered to the ethos of the philosophies underpinning the methodology.

Contribution made to scholarship The articles come from individual researchers and each article in the proceedings is unique. Mostly, there is no general argument leading from one contribution to the next. However, it is interesting to note that in the area of economic performance it was evident that real exchange rate and net foreign direct investment contribute more towards innovations in economic growth With regard to human capital development papers presented evidence that there exists a definite need to explore the phenomenon of personal branding as limited scientific academic research has been done within the field of personal branding or on elements of the topic Thus the outcome argues that personal branding has an influence on leadership style which in turn impacts on organisational performance and related hygiene factors Furthermore it was demonstrated that current methods or strategies for enforcing institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation have not been successful and as such new strategies are needed to reinforce efforts to nurture and invigorate the institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation With regard to technology and big data impact on organisational performance it was evident that system performance memory consumption and CPU utilisation can be used as criteria to compare and evaluate big data technologies to improve organisational performance Most of the articles contribution reemphasised technology education and training as a means of digitising business and improving effectiveness Target audience The target readership is academic researchers and business leaders who require access to the latest developments in the fields of economics information management business education development studies social sciences and technology It is also for policymakers and other stakeholders who need a better understanding of the impact of new developments on existing policies and regulations for their review or amendment Hematopoietic Stem Cell
