The Scourge of War Brian Holden Reid, 2020-05-04 William Tecumseh Sherman a West Point graduate and veteran of the Seminole War became one of the best known generals in the Civil War His March to the Sea which resulted in a devastated swath of the South from Atlanta to Savannah cemented his place in history as the pioneer of total war In The Scourge of War preeminent military historian Brian Holden Reid offers a deeply researched life and times account of Sherman By examining his childhood and education his business ventures in California his antebellum leadership of a military college in Louisiana and numerous career false starts Holden Reid shows how unlikely his exceptional Civil War career would seem He also demonstrates how crucial his family was to his professional path particularly his wife s intervention during the war He analyzes Sherman s development as a battlefield commander and especially his crucial friendships with Henry W Halleck and Ulysses S Grant In doing so he details how Sherman overcame both his weaknesses as a leader and severe depression to mature as a military strategist Central chapters narrate closely Sherman s battlefield career and the gradual lifting of his pessimism that the Union would be defeated After the war Sherman became a popular figure in the North and the founder of the school for officers at Fort Leavenworth Kansas known as the intellectual center of the army Holden Reid argues that Sherman was not hostile to the South throughout his life and only in later years gained a reputation as a villain who practiced barbaric destruction particularly as the neo Confederate Lost Cause grew and he published one of the first personal accounts of the war A definitive biography of a preeminent military figure by a renowned military historian The Scourge of War is a masterful account of Sherman life that fully recognizes his intellect strategy and actions during the Civil War

Empire in Asia: A New Global History Brian P. Farrell, Donna Brunero, 2018-09-20 Asia was the principle focus of empire builders from Alexander and Akbar to Chinggis Khan and Qianlong and yet until now there has been no attempt to provide a comprehensive history of empire in the region Empire in Asia addresses the need for a thorough survey of the topic This volume covers the long 19th century commonly seen in terms of high imperialism and the global projection of Western power

This volume explores the dynamic volatile and often contested processes by which by the early years of the 20th century Asian states space and peoples became deeply integrated into the wider dynamics of global reordering Drawing on case studies from across Asia the contributors discuss key themes including ideology concepts of identity religion and politics state building and state formation the relationships between space people and sovereignty the movements of goods money people and ideas and the influence and impact of conflict and military power The two volumes of Empire in Asia offer a significant contribution to the theory and practice of empire when considered globally and comparatively and are essential reading for all students and scholars of global imperial and Asian history West Asia After Washington Tim

Anderson,2023-09-01 At the turn of the century Washington launched a series of invasions and proxy wars against all the independent peoples and states of the region in the name of creating a New Middle East That offensive involved mass propaganda and the use of large proxy terrorist armies especially sectarian Islamist groups armed and financed by Washington and its regional allies especially Saudi Arabia Qatar Turkey and Israel Resistance to that regional war led to the formation of a loose regional bloc led by Iran which is now forming more substantial relations with the wider counter hegemonic blocs led by China and Russia in particular the BRICS and the Shanghai Cooperation Organization SCO West Asia After Washington addresses how as Washington s multiple wars for a subjugated New Middle East fail the global order is shifting against the North American giant China is displacing the USA as the productive and economic center of the world and new global organizations are competing with those created by the Anglo Americans It is in this global context we must understand the future of the Arabic and Islamic countries of the Middle East now often called West Asia in reflection of that new orientation Among other things this alliance is making real what North American intelligence has long feared and termed an Iranian land bridge extending to the Mediterranean in the west and as far as China in the east That land bridge between East Asia and Europe centers on Iran the largest independent state of the region and is from a Zionist perspective thought to represent the most serious long term existential threat to Israel because it forms a united resistance front in support of the colonized Palestinian people This book discusses the wars of hegemonic decline the roots of Western fascism Zionist cancel culture the Kurdish card in Syria the purging of Christians from the New Middle East the betrayal of Yemen and takes us inside Syrian Idlib Then it looks into the near future considering Washington s strategic retreat the legacy of murdered Iranian Commander Qassem Soleimani and the possibilities of dismantling Apartheid Israel and the lifting of the siege on Syria and its recovery The Iranian land bridge to China Iran s Resistance Economy regional integration and the challenge of multipolarity offer insight into the West Asian region after Washington Between History and Literature Siddharth Satpathy,Girish D. Pawar,2025-06-30 This book explores the value of bhasa literature through the lens of Dipesh Chakrabarty s scholarship offering a nuanced perspective on his passionate engagement with literature at large and with Bengali literature in particular These essays dedicated to Chakrabarty in different ways extend Chakrabarty s preoccupation with the relationship between history and literature and with the subject of modernity in India The themes covered in this book are wide ranging from the modern reception of Sarala Das's Mahabharata and a revisionist reading of Ismat Chughtai's Lihaff to studies of agrarian representations in colonial Bengal and the printing cultures of Bareilly including the Hindi translation of Benjamin Franklin's biography from early account of colonial bureaucrats engagement with Gujarati kavya and itihasa in compiling modern histories to the study of the formation of a sonic theology in early modern Bengal from the genesis and reception history of Vande Mataram to an account of the evolution of a modern Bengali vocabulary which enabled vernacular geographers in the nineteenth century to represent the imperial global world This volume will be of particular interest to students and researchers in South Asian studies history literary theory and postcolonial studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of South Asian History and Culture

Islamesque Diana Darke, 2024-11-14 Who really built Europe's finest Romanesque monuments Abbots and bishops presiding over holy sites receive mentions aplenty throughout history while their highly skilled creators remain anonymous But the buildings speak for themselves In this groundbreaking book Middle East cultural historian Diana Darke explores the evidence embedded in medieval monasteries churches and castles across Europe from Mont Saint Michel and the Leaning Tower of Pisa to Durham Cathedral and the Basilica of Santiago de Compostela Tracing the origins of key decorative and architectural innovations during this pre Gothic period acknowledged as the essential foundation of all future European construction styles she sheds new light on the mystery masons carpenters and sculptors behind these masterpieces Her discoveries are dramatic At a time when Christendom lacked such expertise Muslim craftsmen with their advanced understanding of geometry and complex ornamentation styles dominated the high end construction industry in Islamic Spain Sicily and North Africa spreading their knowledge and techniques across Western Europe Challenging Euro centric assumptions about the continent's built heritage Darke uncovers the profound influence of the Islamic world in Christian Europe and argues that Romanesque architecture a fiction first invented by nineteenth century French art historians should be recognised as what it truly is Islamesque

Making History New Seamus O'Malley, 2014-10-24 Guided by Ezra Pound's dictum Make it new a generation of writers set out to create fiction and poetry that was unlike anything that came before it However as Seamus O'Malley shows historical narrative was a key site for modernist experimentation Taking three of literary modernism's major figures Joseph Conrad Ford Madox Ford and Rebecca West Making History New demonstrates how the movement's literature not only engaged with history but also transformed traditional approaches to its telling in unique ways Informed by Paul Ricoeur's belief that narrative is necessary to comprehend historical processes the study closely examines four major modernist historical novels Conrad's Nostromo interrogates the very term history as it relates the political tumult of a fictitious Latin American country while Ford's The Good Soldier mirrors the cyclical nature of historiography with a protagonist who returns repeatedly to intense periods of his own past to better comprehend them Two epochal World War I novels The Return of the Soldier and Parade's End depict shell shocked veterans that illustrate the paradox of an accurate historical rendering achieved through the process of amnesia These novels in O Malley's view lead to the high point of what he terms modernist historiography Rebecca West's innovative 1941 travelogue Black Lamb and Grey Falcon and its preoccupation with history's impossibility The monograph concludes with a brief consideration of how historians since World War II have adopted some of the approaches to narrative inaugurated by literary modernists while wrestling with how to relate unthinkable atrocities such as genocide Ultimately Making History New foregrounds narrative's essential role as a bridge between fiction and history as it explores the process by which collective human experience becomes historical narrative

Violence, Colonialism and Empire in the Modern World Philip Dwyer, Amanda Nettelbeck, 2017-10-17 This book explores the theme of violence repression and atrocity in imperial and colonial empires as well as its representations and memories from the late eighteenth through to the twentieth century It examines the wide variety of violent means by which colonies and empire were maintained in the modern era the politics of repression and the violent structures inherent in empire Bringing together scholars from around the world the book includes chapters on British French Dutch Italian and Japanese colonies and conquests It considers multiple experiences of colonial violence ranging from political dispute to the non lethal violence of everyday colonialism and the symbolic repression inherent in colonial practices and hierarchies These comparative case studies show how violence was used to assert and maintain control in the colonies contesting the long held view that the colonial project was of benefit to colonised peoples

Once and Future Partners William C. Potter, Sarah Bidgood, 2018-10-09 Despite their Cold War rivalry the United States and the Soviet Union frequently engaged in joint efforts to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons Leaders in Washington and Moscow recognized that nuclear proliferation would serve neither country's interests even when they did not see eye to eye in many other areas They likewise understood why collaboration in mitigating this nuclear danger would serve both their own interests and those of the international community This volume examines seven little known examples of US Soviet cooperation for non proliferation including preventing South Africa from conducting a nuclear test developing international safeguards and export control guidelines and negotiating a draft convention banning radiological weapons It uses declassified and recently digitized archival material to explore in depth the motivations for and modalities for cooperation under often adverse political circumstances Given the current disintegration of Russian and US relations including in the nuclear sphere this history is especially worthy of review Accordingly the volume's final chapter is devoted to discussing how non proliferation lessons from the past can be applied today in areas most in need of US Russian cooperation

An Afghan Prince in Victorian England Robert D.

McChesney, 2024-07-25 In 1894 Great Britain invited Abd al Rahman Khan the amir of Afghanistan to England for a state visit. Then at the height of its imperial might Britain sought to strengthen ties with the strategically important Afghanistan which shared a long frontier not yet a border with British India. The amir's aim for the visit was to secure permission for an Afghan legation embassy in London while the British unaware of this goal hoped to overawe the amir with displays of military and industrial might as well as performances to show the strength and unity of British civil society. The amir citing illness ultimately declined the invitation but in a calculated snub sent his second son Prince Nasr Allah Khan in his place. This book narrates the events of the prince's mission in a number of revealing ways. Using both British and Afghan sources including the journal of a senior member of the Afghan contingent, McChesney places the visit in its international and historical context and analyzes the internal dynamics of the prince's delegation the seventy members of whom represented Afghanistan but included two Englishmen and two English women. A further twenty members representing the Government of British India were as multi ethnic and multilingual as the members of the Afghan delegation. This bilateral and complex mission left India in April 1895 and remained together for the next six months. From the beginning it was riven by incidents of misogyny racism and class conflict that affected its ability to perform its diplomatic functions. The reader gains insights into the goals and tactics of two asymmetrical yet competing powers as well as a rare look at the human element in this cross cultural diplomatic encounter.
