Bergamin, Chantelle Bosch, Adri du Toit, Roelien Goede, Aubrey Golightly, David W. Johnson, Roger T. Johnson, Corné Kruger, Dorothy Laubscher, Anita Lubbe, Jako Olivier, Christo van der Westhuizen, Sukie van Zyl, 2019-12-12 This book is devoted to scholarship in the field of self directed learning in the 21st century with specific reference to higher education The target audience of the book includes scholars in the field of self directed learning and higher education The book contributes to the discourse on the quality of education in the 21st century and adds to the body of scholarship in terms of self directed learning and specifically its role in higher education Although all the chapters in the book directly address self directed learning the different foci and viewpoints raised make the book a rich knowledge bank of work on self directed learning

Rethinking commerce education in South Africa Elsabé Loots, Johan Oberholster, 2023-04-29 This book aims to advance the knowledge on the future of business education in South Africa and to allow all relevant role players universities and industry the opportunity to debate and share ideas on how to best position business education to optimally serve the interest of students and the dynamic changes taking place in the world of work Although some of these changes have taken shape before 2020 the COVID 19 pandemic has accelerated the need and pace for change If business schools in our context faculties of economic and management sciences do not adapt rapidly they will be left behind by other up and coming industry providers The research scope covers all business related undergraduate and postgraduate economics management and accounting programmes excluding MBA programmes Recalibrating teacher training in African higher

examines the role of governments in promoting parity during and in post pandemic education This comes from the realisation that the pandemic has deepened the crisis by depleting the meagre resources that African countries might have devoted to normative educational practices where those on the margins would have been pushed further behind while the privileged would have been further initiated into the cultural and capital flows of private schools and historically research intensive institutions of higher learning This has far reaching implications for the education of underprivileged citizens and education particularly modes and modalities of delivery has to be reimagined to subvert the challenges wrought by the pandemic This book significantly bridges the gap between the pre and post COVID 19 pandemic pedagogical practices and the erstwhile modalities that have been resilient over time The book focuses on ways to stave off pedagogical challenges that face countries as the global pandemic makes its mark

Psychology of Career Adaptability, Employability and Resilience Kobus Maree, 2017-12-05 This book examines how the career counselling profession should respond to the changes in the world of work that have resulted from the increasing need to communicate faster and disseminate information more efficiently It emphasizes the twin aims of enhancing a persons career adaptability and helping them to become more employable rather than linearly trying to find a job and remaining in one organisation for their entire career lives The book shows that to achieve these aims people need to acquire career resilience especially since the world of work no longer provides workers with work holding environments for the duration of their career lives It takes into account historical analyses which show that whenever major technological change has occurred and widespread job losses have ensued people have managed to use the new technology to create new employment opportunities Readers from career psychology and management research vocational and professional career coaching and students of career psychology will find this book delivers sound updated theory demonstrating how perceived threats in the 21st century can conceivably be turned into opportunities

Shaping the Future of Higher Education Lesley Wood, Ortrun Zuber-Skerritt, 2024-10-24 The university is struggling to keep up with the demands of a fast changing world and as a system higher education generally does not respond quickly to change Its institutions produce valuable knowledge about social issues and problems but this is so often not followed by action constructively using that knowledge to effectively address these problems Shaping the Future of Higher Education generates knowledge to enable researchers teachers and leadership in higher education to learn how to positively embrace constant change through innovative collaborative systemic critical and creative thinking and action Through a participatory and transformative paradigm it strives to create knowledge to enable everyone involved in higher education to move from talking about change to actioning it The book presents possible structures and processes for learning teaching research community engagement and leadership It provides pathways to shape a higher education system that is inclusive and student centred that promotes knowledge democracy and is responsive to and relevant for dealing with pressing social issues as they arise The contributing authors of this book are internationally renowned researchers with years of experience in their respective roles in higher education Their ideas will benefit all who are involved in concerned about and or actively promote most effective higher education practices

Human Rights Literacies Cornelia Roux, Anne Becker, 2018-12-29 This book adds impetus to the nexus between human rights human rights education and material reality The dissonance between these aspects is of growing concern for most human rights educators in various social contexts The first part of the book opens up new discourses and presents new ontologies and epistemologies from scholars in human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to critique and or justify the understandings of human rights complex applications Today s rapidly changing social contexts and new languages attempting to understand ongoing dehumanization and violations put enormous pressure on higher education educators individuals working in social sciences policy makers and scholars engaged in curricula making The second part demonstrates how global interactions between citizens from different countries with diverse understandings of human rights from developed and developing democracies question the link between human rights and it s in ex clusive Western philosophies Continuing inhumane actions around the globe reflect the failure of human rights law and human rights education in schools higher education and society at large The book shows that human rights education is no longer a blueprint for understanding human rights and its universal or contextual values presented for multicomplexial societies The final chapters argue for new ontologies and epistemologies of human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to open up difficult conversations and to give space to dissonant and disruptive discourses The many opportunities for human rights education and literacies lies in these conversations

Handbook of Research on Inclusive and Accessible Education Maguvhe, Mbulaheni Obert, Mpya, Nwacoye Gladness, Sadiki, Marubini Christinah, 2024-02-16 In the vast expanse of education a pervasive issue remains in the marginalization and lack of visibility of individuals with disabilities Despite a strong desire for inclusivity recent research suggests that fewer than 5% of children with disabilities in 51 countries across sub Saharan Africa and South Asia are enrolled in primary school This exclusion is not solely in enrollment numbers even those who manage to attend face learning environments ill equipped to adapt to their needs leading to further isolation Girls with disabilities in particular endure heightened vulnerability to abuse reflecting a systemic failure to provide an environment that fosters equality dignity and respect for all The Handbook of Research on Inclusive and Accessible Education emerges as an inspiration for change providing a profound solution to the persistent issue of exclusion The book encapsulates a collective effort to reimagine education It advocates for a paradigm shift moving away from the confinement of special schools and towards inclusive mainstream settings By addressing controversies sharing successes and outlining prospects the book serves as a comprehensive guide for special school governing bodies curriculum advisors university lecturers and all stakeholders committed to reshaping education
