

3 (a) Work out the value of $(8 \times 10^4) \div (32 \times 10^5)$

Give your answer in ordinary form.

$$\begin{aligned} \frac{8 \times 10^4}{32 \times 10^5} &= \frac{1}{4} \times 10^{4-5} \\ &= 0.25 \times 10^{-1} \\ &= \underline{0.025} \end{aligned}$$

0.025

(b) $A = \sqrt{\frac{a^2}{b}}$

$a = 4.5 \times 10^4$

$b = 8.1 \times 10^2$

Work out the value of A .

Give your answer in standard form correct to 3 significant figures.

$$A = \sqrt{\frac{a^2}{b}}$$

Substitute values

$$\begin{aligned} A &= \sqrt{\frac{(4.5 \times 10^4)^2}{8.1 \times 10^2}} \\ &= \sqrt{\frac{20.25 \times 10^8}{8.1 \times 10^2}} \\ &= (2.5 \times 10^6)^{1/2} \end{aligned}$$

$$\begin{aligned} &= (2.5)^{1/2} \times (10)^{6/2} \\ &= \underline{1.58 \times 10^3} \end{aligned}$$

Reasoning in Measurement Nicola Mößner,Alfred Nordmann,2017-03-16 This collection offers a new understanding of the epistemology of measurement The interdisciplinary volume explores how measurements are produced for example in astronomy and seismology in studies of human sexuality and ecology in brain imaging and intelligence testing It considers photography as a measurement technology and Henry David Thoreau's poetic measures as closing the gap between mind and world By focusing on measurements as the hard won results of conceptual as well as technical operations the authors of the book no longer presuppose that measurement is always and exclusively a means of representing some feature of a target object or entity Measurement also provides knowledge about the degree to which things have been standardized or harmonized it is an indicator of how closely human practices are attuned to each other and the world

Putting the "Why" Back into Bone "Archytecture" Phil Salmon,Daniel Chappard,Andrew Anthony Pitsillides,2017-07-27 A large literature exists on trabecular and cortical bone morphology The engineering performance of bone implied from its 3d architecture is often the endpoint of bone biology experiments being clinically relevant to bone fracture How and why does bone travel along its complex spatio temporal trajectory to acquire its architecture The question why can have two meanings The first teleological why is an architecture advantageous is the domain of substantial biomechanical research to date The second etiological how did an architecture come about has received far less attention This Frontiers Bone Research Topic invited contributions addressing this etiological why what mechanisms can coordinate the activity of bone forming and resorbing cells to produce the observed complex and efficient bone architectures One mechanism is proposed chaotic nonlinear pattern formation NPF which underlies in a unifying way natural structures as disparate as trabecular bone swarms of birds flying or shoaling fish island formation fluid turbulence and others At the heart of NPF is the fact that simple rules operating between interacting elements multiplied and repeated many times lead to complex and structured patterns This paradigm of growth and form leads to a profound link between bone regulation and its architecture in bone the architecture is the regulation The former is the emergent consequence of the latter Whatever mechanism does determine bone s developing architecture has to operate at the level of individual sites of formation and resorption and coupling between the two This has implications as to how we understand the effect on bone of agents such as gene products or drugs It may be for instance that the tuning of coupling between formation and resorption might be as important as the achievement of enhanced bone volume The ten articles that were contributed to this Topic were just what we hoped for a snapshot of leading edge bone biology research which addresses the question of how bone gets its shape We hope that you find these papers thought provoking and that they might stimulate new ideas in the research into bone architecture growth and adaptation and how to preserve healthy bone from gestation and childhood until old age

Chromatic Algorithms Carolyn L. Kane, 2014-08-13 These days we take for granted that our computer screens and even our phones will show us images in vibrant full color Digital color is a fundamental part of how we use our devices but we never give a thought to how it is produced or how it came about Chromatic Algorithms reveals the fascinating history behind digital color tracing it from the work of a few brilliant computer scientists and experimentally minded artists in the late 1960s and early 70s through to its appearance in commercial software in the early 1990s Mixing philosophy of technology aesthetics and media analysis Carolyn Kane shows how revolutionary the earliest computer generated colors were built with the massive postwar number crunching machines these first examples of computer art were so fantastic that artists and computer scientists regarded them as psychedelic even revolutionary harbingers of a better future for humans and machines But Kane shows the explosive growth of personal computing and its accompanying need for off the shelf software led to standardization and the gradual closing of the experimental field in which computer artists had thrived Even so the gap between the bright bold presence of color onscreen and the increasing abstraction of its underlying code continues to lure artists and designers from a wide range of fields and Kane draws on their work to pose fascinating questions about the relationships among art code science and media in the twenty first century Computer Science and its Applications in Scienze Education Pixel, 2016-03-04 Learning a non-native language in a naturalistic environment: Insights from behavioural and neuroimaging research Christos Pliatsikas, Vicky Chondrogianni, 2015-09-02 It is largely accepted in the relevant literature that successful learning of one or more non native languages is affected by a number of factors that are independent of the target language s per se these factors include the age of acquisition AoA of the target language s the type and amount of formal instruction the learners have received as well as the amount of language use that the learners demonstrate Recent experimental evidence suggests that one crucial factor for efficient native like performance in the non native language is the amount of naturalistic exposure or immersion that the learners receive to that language This can be broadly defined as the degree to which language learners use their non native language outside the classroom and for their day to day activities and usually presupposes that the learners live in an environment where their non native language is exclusively or mostly used Existing literature has suggested that linguistic immersion can be beneficial for lexical and semantic acquisition in a non native language as well as for non native morphological and syntactic processing More recent evidence has also suggested that naturalistic learning of a non native language can also have an impact on the patterns of brain activity underlying language processing as well as on the structure of brain regions that are involved expressed as changes in the grey matter structure This Research Topic brings together studies on the effects of learning and speaking a non native language in a naturalistic environment These include more efficient or native like processing in behavioural tasks tapping on language lexicon morphology syntax as well as changes in the brain structure and function as revealed by neuroimaging studies Conference proceedings.
