Pleasure On The Fringe English Edition:

Art and Ideology in European Opera Rachel Cowgill, David Cooper, Clive Brown, 2010 Opera that most extravagant of the performing arts is infused with the contexts of power brokering and cultural display in which it was conceived and experienced For individual operas such contexts have shifted over time and new meanings emerged often quite remote from those intended by the original collaborators but tracing this ideological dimension in a work's creation and reception enables us to understand its cultural and political role more clearly sometimes conflicting with its status as art and sometimes enhancing it This collection is a Festschrift in honour of Julian Rushton one of the most distinguished opera scholars of his generation and highly regarded for his innovative studies of Gluck Mozart and Berlioz among many others Colleagues associates and former students pay tribute to his work with essays highlighting the interplay between opera art and ideology across three centuries Three broad themes are opened up from a variety of approaches nationalism cosmopolitanism and national opera opera class and the politics of enlightenment and opera and otherness British opera is represented by studies of Grabu Purcell Dibdin Holst Stanford and Britten but the collection sustains a truly European perspective rounded out with essays on French opera funding Bizet Mozart Mendelssohn Verdi Puccini Janacek Nielsen Rimsky Korsakov and Schreker Several works receive some of their first extended discussion in English

The Problem of Pleasure Dominic Erdozain, 2010 The book combines intellectual cultural and social history to address a major area of encounter between Christianity and British culture the world of leisure This book traces the rise and fall of the evangelical movement the powerhouse of Victorian religion via its preoccupation with pleasure Victorian evangelicalism demonstrated an ability to excite the affections but also a corresponding suspicion of worldly pleasures Suspicion developed into hostility and a movement premised on freedom became coercive and alienating The crisis of

Victorian religion began It is generally held that the mid Victorian turn to recreation and sport solved the problem justifying God to the people through cricket cycling and football This book argues otherwise that the problem of pleasure was inflamed by the ecclesiastical remedy The problem of overdrawn boundaries between church and world gave way to a new and subtle confusion of gospel and culture Historians have praised the mood of engagement but the costs were profound In fact sport became the perfect vehicle for that humanistic unmystical morality that defines the secularity of the twentieth century Secularisation did not wait for the Dionysian rebellions of the 1960s it emerged almost a hundred years earlier in the Victorian transformation of religion into ethics Central to the process was the problem of pleasure DOMINIC ERDOZAIN is Lecturer in the History of Christianity King s College London
