

My Grandmother

In my Rose Garden of memories
I see you standing there An angel in disguise
Who taught me how to care
I long to hear your voice for real not in my dreams I am missing you so much these days how empty my world seems People say time heals all wounds that someday the pain will subside But Grandma I can tell you
I think they must have lied
The emptiness I am feeling now is strong and I am weak These days go by without you so dreary and so bleak
In my Rose Garden of memories
I know you'll always be for though you're gone from this mortal world In my heart you'll always be

Poem From Dead Grandmother To Grandchild:

Academic Households in Early Modern Northern Europe Mari Välimäki, 2025-08-08 This volume explores academic households in early modern c sixteenth to eighteenth century Northern Europe examining changing dynamics of family and gender During the Middle Ages Christian scholars were expected to spend their lives unwed and instead focus on educating the young However a gradual easing of prohibitions against the marriage of scholars began in different areas of Europe in the late fourteenth century By the end of the sixteenth century a great number of professors were men with families and establishing their own households This was especially the case in the German speaking Protestant areas of Europe and the Swedish realm from the first half of the seventeenth century The contributors of this volume concentrate on universities that took on the new idealised understanding of professors and other members of academic communities as married men They analyse how professors and other members of the academic communities viewed family and household what academic family life was like and how the members of the academic community utilised family and the household for academic self fashioning and building networks Furthermore they pay special attention to the wives and widows of professors and other academics and discuss the agency of these women This book is an excellent resource for students and professional readers alike who are interested in the histories of early modern universities families and gender

Anne Bradstreet's Quest for Spiritual Solace Nasser Al-Beshri, 2012-06 This book studies Anne Bradstreet s quest for spiritual solace during times of hardships after she and her family fled from England to North America During those adversities Bradstreet questioned her faith In all the poems subject of this book Bradstreet s inner struggle between her flesh and spirit can obviously be seen Bradstreet uses her talent in poetry writing as a means to express her deepest thoughts and fears hoping to find the peace and comfort she needs Bradstreet was able to get over all those shattering hardships and emerge a better person believing even more strongly than ever that God will reward her patience in the afterlife with better and heavenly blessings Before her death the constant disturbing struggle between her flesh and spirit is replaced by serenity and longing for heaven
