

The poem

- Being the shortest in my high school gym class
- Attempts to play basketball brought no success
- Broke my finger while trying to catch a pass
- Leaping to take balls from tall girls? What a mess!
- Always loved football, baseball and soccer too
- But in basketball I succumbed to defeat
- Just couldn't get into it, that is true
- Till Dad took me to see the Miami Heat
- Startled he was, watching me jump up and down
- Although my enthusiasm was contrived
- The cheers of other fans my loud voice did drown
- This was the last time I saw my Dad alive
- I'm so thankful now that I went to that game
- Dad was so grateful for these moments we shared
- When I watch basketball now, it's not the same
- It was Dad and not the sport for which I cared

Seeing Through Teachers' Eyes Karen Hammerness, 2006-01-01 What sources of inspiration help sustain teachers' commitments motivations and care for their work How do teachers use their ideals to inform their practice and their learning The author proposes that many teachers have images of ideal classroom practice which she calls teachers' vision In this book Karen Hammerness uses vision to shed light on the complex relationship between teachers' ideals and the realities of school life Through the compelling stories of four teachers she reveals how each educator can help new teachers articulate develop and sustain their visions and assist them as they navigate the gap between their visions and their daily work She shows us how vision can illuminate those emotional and passionate moments in the classroom that enrich and enliven their work as teachers explain what teachers learn about their students their teaching and their schools and reveal why some teachers choose to stay in teaching and others leave the profession

Teaching through Culture: Strategies for Reading and Responding to Young Adult Literature Joan Parker

Webster, 2002-10-31 In an increasingly multicultural global community teachers are striving to bring more culturally responsive materials to their classrooms In this trailblazing text Joan Parker Webster provides instructors with the basic tools to teach young adults Hispanic literature using selected texts and tailored methods for implementation in classes made up of culturally diverse students She has chosen exemplary narrative works from some of the most respected authors of Latino literature Teaching through Culture introduces teachers to key texts while providing ancillary information and methods to make teaching and reading experiences effective A culturally responsive teacher builds on students prior knowledge and employs appropriate styles of communication and interaction to engage students in learning Parker Webster affirms that the use of texts that provide cultural connections is the most successful way to actively engage diverse learners and improve their comprehension When students can see themselves in the stories they read they encounter familiar ideas and situations which lessen an often overwhelming and intimidating school environment In each chapter Joan Parker Webster provides the historical and cultural context for each text and applies strategies for understanding and teaching the text in the classroom Each chapter is divided into the following sections Synopsis of the Story Background before You Read Reading and Responding to the Story Working with Words and Connecting across the Curriculum Webster presents the works of such authors as Anil Bernardo Diane Gonzales Bertrand Judith Ortiz Cofer Ofelia Dumas Lachtman Floyd Martinez and Tom s Rivera Dust Off the Gold Medal Sara L. Schwebel, Jocelyn Van Tuyl, 2021-08-23 The oldest and most prestigious children s literature award the Newbery Medal has since 1922 been granted annually by the American Library Association to the children s book it deems most distinguished Medal books enjoy an outsized influence on American children s literature figuring perennially on publishers lists on library and bookstore shelves and in school curricula As such they offer a compelling window into the history of US children s literature and publishing as well as into changing societal attitudes about which books are best for America s schoolchildren Yet literary scholars have disproportionately ignored the Medal winners in their research This volume provides a critically and historically grounded scholarly analysis of representative but understudied Newbery Medal books from the 1920s through the 2010s interrogating the disjunction between the books omnipresence and influence on the one hand and the critical silence surrounding them on the other Dust Off the Gold Medal makes a case for closing these scholarly gaps by revealing neglected texts insights into the politics of children s literature prizing and by demonstrating how neglected titles illuminate critical debates currently central to the field of children s literature In particular the essays shed light on the hidden elements of diversity apparent in the neglected Newbery canon while illustrating how the books respond sometimes in quite subtle ways to contemporaneous concerns around race class gender disability nationalism and globalism A Two-way Street Maryellen Hains, 1982
