Every writer needs a toolbox filled with craft, a drop of talent, and hope. Successful writers know they must add the Writer's Market. You should too. Barbara O'Neal, author of The All You Can Dream Buffet, 7-time RITA award winner and RWA Hall of Fame member: The business of writing is unnecessarily intimidating. Editors want good writing, so why can it be so hard to get published? Writer's Market helps make sense of that big question, offering the kind of straight-shooting advice writers need. I bought my first copy over a decade ago and still feel grateful that I was able to send my first submissions without embarrassing myself. Writer's Market is an invaluable tool that I find myself recommending again and again. Erica Wright, author of the novel The Red Chameleon and poetry collection Instructions for Killing the Jackal, as well as Senior Editor for Guernica Magazine. Beyond the Glass Case Nick Merriman, 2016-09-16 The book is the result of a nationwide survey in the UK that measured public use of and attitudes to the past, archaeology, and collecting. The author reviews this research in the light of contemporary theory on ideology and representation and goes on to develop a convincing explanation for the failure of museums and similar institutions to connect with the majority of the public. Merriman marshals the empirical and theoretical work to make a powerful case for a new approach to attract the under-served populations, one which encourages a view of the museum as a service helping its public to see, understand, and engage with its own personal, local, and multi-faceted past.

Magazines and Trade Publications , 1906 Snapshots of the Past Brian M. Fagan, 1995 Archaeology has been a subject of endless fascination to scholars students and the general public For the past three decades Prof Brian Fagan has been the key narrator of the story of the past for many through his textbooks trade books and numerous magazine and journal articles In recent years Fagan has reported on the latest news theories and controversies in archaeology through his regular Timelines column in Archaeology Magazine In Snapshots of the Past Fagan collects many of these vignettes into a single work leading the reader on a tour through time and space that ranges from the ascent of the human species to the public controversies that concern today's archaeologist. In these 30 brief chapters the author offers readers a series of snapshots of the issues of greatest contemporary interest: the Eve hypothesis, the peopling of the New World, site looting, the translation of Mayan hieroglyphs, the domestication of animals, the impact of feminism on archaeology, the archaeology of slavery, and evidence of human cannibalism among many others. Included among the articles are several pieces written specifically for this volume, including a description of the recent spectacular cave art finds at Chauvet Grotto in France. For instructors of archaeology, the book is a handy compilation of brief, interesting cases to engage your students. For serious archaeologists, the book represents a collection of works of one of the important synthesizers of the field. For the avocational archaeologist, the book provides a fascinating, readable update on issues of current concern.

The Walking Larder Juliet Clutton-Brock, 2014-10-30. This book is one of a series of more than 20 volumes resulting from the World Archaeological Congress, September 1986, attempting to bring together not only archaeologists and anthropologists from many parts of the world, as well as academics from contingent disciplines, but also non-academics from a wide range of cultural backgrounds. This text looks at human-animal interactions, especially some of the less well-known aspects of the field. A number of studies in the book document some of the vast changes humankind has wrought upon the natural environment through the movement of various species of animals around the world. These chapters provide contributions to the understanding of contemporary ecological problems, especially the deforestation taking place to provide grazing for live stock. The 31 contributions offer a shop window of approaches, primarily from a biological perspective.

The Scrolls and the Scriptures Stanley E. Porter, Craig A. Evans, 1997-11-01. This collection of papers from the Roehampton conference on the Dead Sea Scrolls and the Bible is the first jubilee volume published to celebrate the discovery of the Scrolls fifty years ago. Experts on the Scrolls, Hebrew language, biblical studies, ancient Judaism, and modern literary theory cover a range of perspectives, as well as important issues of method and the perennial problems of the identity of the inhabitants of Khirbet Qumran and the relationship between the site and the discoveries in the nearby caves. Contributors include the well-known experts Philip Davies, George Brooke, Al Wolters, and J. D.
