Educating Adolescent Newcomers in the Superdiverse Midwest Brian Seilstad, 2021-03-24 This book juxtaposes superdiversity with the reality of English centrality in the United States set against the long standing challenges regarding migration and language policy in the US most recently underlined by Donald Trump's 2016 election win and subsequent aggressive and partially successful attempts to limit migration The book explores the history policies and practices of an adolescent newcomer program in Central Ohio in the US Midwest that seeks to provide an equitable and engaging education to its students It addresses on the one hand positive progressive institutional responses including an embrace of translanguaging and a willingness to acknowledge and build on students languacultural backgrounds On the other hand the book explores the effects of inconsistent inefficient and sometimes nonsensical patterns in these responses The book analyzes student outcomes and argues that although some students are well served by the program tensions in the program lead to uneven and even troubling behavior and results ranging from poor academic performance to dropping out Finally the book addresses ongoing evolutions and debates to the program and their potential to realize the program's aspirations

An Abundance of Caution David Zweig, 2025-04-22 A searing indictment of the American public health media and political establishments decision making process behind pandemic school closures An Abundance of Caution is a devastating account of the decision making process behind one of the worst American policy failures in a century the extended closures of public schools during the pandemic In fascinating and meticulously reported detail David Zweig shows how some of the most trusted members of society from Pulitzer Prize winning journalists to eminent health officials repeatedly made fundamental errors in their assessment and presentation of evidence As a result for the first time in modern American history millions of healthy children did not set foot in a classroom for more than a year Since the spring of 2020 many students in Europe had been learning in person Even many peers at home in private schools and public schools in mostly red states and districts were in class full time from fall 2020 onward Whatever inequities that existed among American children before the pandemic the selective school closures exacerbated them disproportionately affecting the underprivileged Deep mental physical and academic harms among them depression anxiety abuse obesity plummeting test scores and rising drop out rates were endured for no discernible benefit As Europe had shown very early after they had sent kids back to class there was never any evidence that long term school closures nor a host of interventions imposed on students when they were in classrooms would reduce overall cases or deaths in any meaningful way The story of American schools during the pandemic serves as a prism through which to approach fundamental questions about why and how individuals bureaucracies governments and societies act as they do in times of crisis and uncertainty Ultimately this book is not about COVID it's about a country ill equipped to act sensibly under duress

Teaching Literacies in Diverse Contexts Sinéad Harmey, Bobbie Kabuto, 2023-04-24 Literacy education can take place in many locations and periods across the lifespan Literacy educators require flexibility and a deep toolbox to meet their students diverse needs regardless of whether they work in traditional school and college settings or in other environments with varied populations Teaching Literacy in Diverse Contexts shows how practical experiences can be used in creative ways to support educator development for teaching literacy in a global context Mentorship between a developing literacy educator and an experienced teacher educator is central to the book and to the practical experiences in training or professional development that it focuses on Chapters share the creative solutions discovered during mentorship that supported developing literacy educators to teach with authenticity in a number of contexts including the adult learning sector a rural community in Africa and alongside parents of very sick children The authors demonstrate how this can be done in a sensitive and culturally relevant manner by parents volunteers and teachers with varying degrees of experience in both formal and informal spaces Together the chapters build a crucial resource for preparing a broad range of literacy educators to teach literacy in many contexts where policy on how best to teach reading and writing to diverse student bodies ebbs and flows
