The Contested Idea of South Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Busani Ngcaweni, 2021-11-29 This book reflects on the complex and contested idea of South Africa drawing on a wide range of disciplinary perspectives Ever since the delineation of South Africa as a country the many diverse groups of people contained within its borders have struggled to translate a mere geographical description into the identity of a people Today the new struggles for South Africa and to become South African are inextricably intertwined with complex challenges of transformation xenophobia claims of reverse racism social justice economic justice service delivery and the resurgent decolonization struggles reverberating inside the universities This book covers the genealogy of the idea of South Africa exploring how the country has been conceived of by a broad group of actors including the British Afrikaners diverse African nationalist traditions and new formations such as the Economic Freedom Fighters EFF Black First Land First BLF and student formations Rhodes Must Fall Fees Must Fall Over the course of the book a broad range of themes are covered including identity formation modernity race ethnicity indigeneity autochthony land gender intellectual traditions poetics of South Africanness language popular culture truth and reconciliation and national development planning Concluding with important reflections on how a colonial imaginary can be changed into a free and inclusive postcolonial nation state this book will be an important read for Africanist researchers from across the humanities and social sciences

Child Language Acquisition Ben Ambridge, Elena V. M. Lieven, 2011-03-17 Is children's language acquisition based on innate linguistic structures or built from cognitive and communicative skills This book summarises the major theoretical debates in all of the core domains of child language acquisition research phonology word learning inflectional morphology syntax and binding and includes a complete introduction to the two major contrasting theoretical approaches generativist and constructivist For each debate the predictions of the competing accounts are closely and even handedly evaluated against the empirical data The result is an evidence based review of the central issues in language acquisition research that will constitute a valuable resource for students teachers course builders and researchers alike The First Year at

School: An International Perspective Peter Tymms, Tiago Bartholo, Sarah Howie, Elena Kardanova, Mariane Campelo Koslinski, Christine Merrell, Helen Wildy, 2023-06-26 This book explores an under researched but vital part of education the first year at primary elementary school The work shows that children's progress varies enormously from school to school class to class and child to child This variation is important because the more progress that children make in that first year of school the higher their academic attainment at the end of compulsory schooling The iPIS international Performance Indicators in Primary Schools project upon which this book is based has been able to provide deeper insights into some of the key issues within and across different contexts whilst highlighting new and some ongoing issues Despite all the work there remain unanswered or new puzzling issues which are also explored We need to know how to improve the education at that stage and more broadly we need greater clarity about when children should be taught to read and be introduced to formal arithmetic in other words when they should start school We also need to be clearer about whether when and how young children should be assessed The book will suggest some answers but it will raise important questions and dilemmas for which we do not as yet have answers Assemblages of Belonging Craniv Boyd, 2025-11-07 Ndebele material culture in South Africa was appropriated and commodified during the apartheid era Craniv Boyd traces Ndebele art back to its origins and examines its creation as enduring practices of identity construction and of cultural articulation placing particular emphasis on mural painting and beadwork He traces the historical trajectories of these art forms and considers their ongoing transformation in contemporary contexts Focusing on the creative labor of Ndebele women this study conceptualizes these practices as assemblages of belonging that mediate personal and collective identity sustain cultural continuity and navigate the shifting dynamics of heritage modernity and global circulation The Oxford Handbook of Ellipsis Jeroen van Craenenbroeck, Tanja Temmerman, 2018-12-13 This Handbook is the first volume to provide a comprehensive in depth and balanced discussion of ellipsis phenomena whereby the meaning of an utterance is richer than would be expected based solely on its linguistic form Natural language abounds in these apparently incomplete expressions such as I laughed but Ed didn't in which the final portion of the sentence the verb laugh remains unpronounced but is still understood The range of phenomena involved raise general and fundamental questions about the workings of grammar but also constitute a treasure trove of fine grained points of inter and intralinguistic variation The volume is divided into four parts In the first authors examine the role that ellipsis plays and how it is analysed in different theoretical frameworks and linguistic subdisciplines such as HPSG construction grammar inquisitive semantics and computational linguistics Chapters in the second part highlight the usefulness of ellipsis as a diagnostic tool for other linguistic phenomena including movement and islands and codeswitching while part III focuses instead on the types of elliptical constructions found in natural language such as sluicing gapping and null complement anaphora Finally the last part of the book contains case studies that investigate elliptical phenomena in a wide variety of languages including Dutch Japanese Persian and Finnish Sign Language Children with Specific Language Impairment, second edition Laurence B. Leonard, 2017-10-13 The landmark reference in the field completely updated a comprehensive treatment of a disorder that is more prevalent than autism Children with specific language impairment SLI show a significant deficit in spoken language that cannot be attributed to neurological damage hearing impairment or intellectual disability More prevalent than autism and at least as prevalent as dyslexia SLI affects approximately seven percent of all children it is longstanding with adverse effects on academic social and eventually economic standing The first edition of this work established Children with Specific Language Impairment as the landmark reference on this condition considering not only the disorder's history possible origins and treatment but also what SLI might tell us about language organization and development in general This second edition offers a complete update of the earlier volume Much of the second edition is completely new reflecting findings and interpretations based on the hundreds of studies that have appeared since the publication of the first edition in 1997 Topics include linguistic details descriptive and theoretical word and sentence processing findings genetics neurobiology treatment and comparisons to such conditions as autism spectrum disorders ADHD and dyslexia The book covers SLI in children who speak a wide range of languages and although the emphasis is on children it also includes studies of adults who were diagnosed with SLI as children or are the parents of children with SLI Written by a leading scholar in the field Children with Specific Language Impairment offers the most comprehensive balanced and unified treatment of SLI available The Open Handbook of Linguistic Data Management Andrea L.
