-----------------	---------------------------------

1. ANALYSIS OF QUESTION BY QUESTION PERFORMANCE

QUESTION 1

- 1.1 The question was an essay type of question that sought to assess the candidates' knowledge of literary devices as applied to a poem. They were required to identify literary devices in the poem extract and to further state the function of such a device in the poem. It was a choice question from the prescribed list.
- 1.2 It is relevant in that it forms the main thrust of LO 2, LO 3 and LO 4, together with AS's. Performance in this question was by and large not good.
- 1.3
- Firstly, the candidates missed the essay structure and write in the form of points that were mostly not well executed, whilst further omitting to state the function of a particular device. Most of those who attempted the question failed to give examples of relevant lines from the poem.
 - Secondly, some candidates seemed to confuse "phetapheto ya mantswe" and "phetapheto ya moelelo". The same occurred with "phetamota" which can be roughly translated as a refrain – which differs completely from the other two in that it refers to a repetitive use of a certain poetic line which may occur either at the beginning of each stanza or at the end of every stanza. Well, there were instances where some candidates seemed to have been intensively taught/trained in the application of literary devices in general.
 - Thirdly, devices that were the same but occurring in different lines were not grouped together in line with the structuralist view of literary critique.
 - Lastly, some candidates failed to score marks because instead of supplying the devices they gave themes, content and lessons/morals of the poem in their responses.

Case, Valency and Transitivity L. I. Kulikov, Andre? L?vovich Mal?chukov, Dr Peter Swart, 2006-01-01 The three concepts of case valency and transitivity belong to the most discussed topics of modern linguistics On the one hand they are crucially connected with morphological aspects of the clause including case marking person agreement and voice On the other hand they are related to several semantic issues such as the meaning of case semantico syntactic verbal classes and the semantic correlates of transitivity The volume unifies papers written within different theoretical frameworks and representing variegated approaches Optimality Theory Government and Binding various versions of the Functional approach Cross linguistic and Typological analyses containing both numerous new findings in individual languages and valuable observations and generalizations related to case valency and transitivity Selected Proceedings of the 35th Annual Conference on African Linguistics John M. Mugane, John P. Hutchison, Dee Ann Worman, 2006 This volume contains 26 papers selected from the 35th Annual Conference on African Linguistics ACAL 35 which was held at Harvard University in 2004 The theme of the conference African Languages and Linguistics in Broad Perspective was an open invitation to go beyond traditional linguistic theorizing and to discuss issues of greater sociolinguistic and cultural meaning outside of Africa as well as on the continent The selected papers of this volume represent a broad range of papers selected for their significance breadth of coverage and depth of analysis written by scholars from around the globe Resources in Education, 1992

Theoretical Analyses on Romance Languages José Lema, Esthela Treviño, 1998-07-15 From the papers presented at the 26th LSRL this volume offers a selection of a contributions on phonological issues and on syntax Most of the grammatical phenomena discussed are treated within the frameworks of the Minimalist Program Distributed Morphology or Optimality Theory It was apparent from the diversity of the papers delivered that these approaches are exposing novel phenomena which enrich and widen our knowledge and understanding of language The analyses undertaken in these articles range over a variety of dialects of Romance languages Language George Melville Bolling, Bernard Bloch, 1989 Proceedings of the annual meeting of the Society in v 1 11 1925 34 After 1934 they appear in Its Bulletin Beyond Territory and Scarcity Quentin Gausset, Michael Anthony Whyte, Torben Birch-Thomsen, 2005 In this volume ten anthropologists and geographers critically address traditional Mathusian discourses in essays that attempt to move beyond territory and scarcity

Afrikanistische Arbeitspapiere, 2001 Oral Traditions in Southern Africa: Aesthetics, language, and literature Steven Phaniso Chinombo Moyo, Tobias W. C. Sumaili, James A. Moody, 1986 Endangered Languages Lenore A. Grenoble, Lindsay J. Whaley, 1998-03-26 This book provides an overview of the issues surrounding language loss It brings together work by theoretical linguists field linguists and non linguist members of minority communities to provide an integrated view of how language is lost from sociological and economic as well as from linguistic perspectives The contributions to the volume fall into four categories The chapters by Dorian and Grenoble and Whaley provide an overview of language endangerment Grinevald England Jacobs and Nora and Richard Dauenhauer describe the situation confronting threatened languages from both a linguistic and sociological perspective The understudied issue of what beyond a linguistic system can be lost as a language ceases to be spoken is addressed by Mithun Hale Jocks and Woodbury In the last section Kapanga Myers Scotton and Vakhtin consider the linguistic processes which underlie language attrition FAO Food and Nutrition Paper ,1977

Journal of African Languages ,1970 The Bantu-Romance Connection Cécile de Cat,Katherine Demuth,2008-09-26 This landmark volume is the first work specifically designed to explore the extent to which striking surface morpho syntactic similarities between Bantu and Romance languages actually represent similar syntactic structures In particular it explores the timely and much debated issues of verbal morphology and agreement the structure of DPs and word order information structure with the goal of providing a better understanding of the structure of the different languages investigated and the implications this holds for syntactic theory more generally All of the papers draw on data from both Bantu and Romance languages providing a framework for much needed further comparative research on the nature of linguistic structure its diversity and constraints and the implications this has for learnability acquisition The volume also provides an important precedent for incorporating insights from Bantu linguistic structure into mainstream of syntax research

The Acquisition of Verb Placement J. Meisel,2012-12-06 other aspects of developing grammars And this is indeed what the contributions to this volume do Parameterization of functional categories may however be understood in different ways even if one shares the dual assumptions that substantive elements verbs nouns etc are present in all grammars and that X bar principles are part of the grammatical knowledge available to the child prior to language specific learning processes From these assumptions it follows that the child should from early on be able to construct projections on the basis of these elements The role of functional categories however may still be interpreted differently One possibility first suggested by Radford 1986 1990 and by Guilfoyle and Noonan 1988 is that children must discover which functional categories FC need to be implemented in the grammar of the language they are acquiring Another possibility first explored by Hyams 1986 is that a specific category is present in developing grammars but that parameter values are set in a way deviating from the target adult grammar corresponding however to options realized in other adult systems A third option would be that these categories might be specified differently in developing as opposed to mature grammars All three are explored in the papers collected in this volume Before outlining the various hypotheses in more detail however I would like briefly to sketch the grammatical context in which the following debate is situated 2

Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,2002 Modality in Underdescribed Languages Jozina Vander Klok,Núbia Ferreira Rech,Simone Guesser,2022-11-07 Current semantic fieldwork research has shown that the study of modality cannot be conducted via translation alone yet much of what we know about modal expressions across the world s language is still translation based This book aims to facilitate the study of modality across more diverse languages and a wider participant base by explaining and illustrating a nuanced set of methods including storyboards questionnaires corpora research experimental tasks as well as a discussion of practical semantic fieldwork techniques The methodological protocols tested and employed by the authors on underdescribed languages spanning seven different language families are intended to be applicable as cross linguistic tools while also indicating the successes and challenges of their contributions Expanding the study of modality to a wider set of underdescribed languages will undoubtedly bring new insights into our theoretical understanding of modality and deepen our understanding of a cross linguistic typology of modal expressions

The Acquisition of Verbs and their Grammar:

Natalia Gagarina, Insa Güllow, 2006-07-15 language specific competence within the acquisitional process Together with the focus on acquisition of the verb and its grammar research in this domain provides a fruitful basis for discussion The maturation model of language acquisition assumes that UG becomes the language specific grammar over time and that UG is entirely available only up until the time when the native language has been completely acquired cf Atkinson 1992 Wexler 1999 Constructivist models that may also be opposed to theories of UG alongside with the usage based approaches mentioned above mostly elaborate on the early acquisition of spatial relations e g Bowerman and Choi 2001 Sinha et al 1999 however two main hypotheses of this approach a holistic view of universal spatial cognition and the language specific acquisition hypothesis are beyond the main scope of this book The book presents original contributions based on analyses of naturalistic data from eleven languages Croatian Dutch English Estonian French German Hebrew Jakarta Indonesian Japanese Russian and Spanish Three of the contributions make cross linguistic comparisons between English and Russian English German and Spanish and German Croatian and English All papers in the volume investigate first language acquisition and one paper studies both first and second language acquisition
