

The background image is a serene landscape. In the foreground, a bamboo raft is partially submerged in a calm body of water, with its reflection visible. The water is still, mirroring the sky and the distant mountains. In the middle ground, a small boat with a person is visible on the water. The background features a range of dark, silhouetted mountains under a warm, golden sky. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a soft glow and long, gentle shadows.

Je vous souhaite plein de temps pour vous

The End Richard John Neupert, 1995 Given the importance that spectators grant to the final moments of a motion picture it is surprising to find so little written on how films end and how audiences interpret those closing moments This study investigates endings in film and the lively role they play in how and why viewers make sense of movies Relying upon contemporary literary criticism and film theory the author analyses narrative strategies in films ranging from the classical Hollywood motion picture to the more modern European art cinema To assist readers in understanding the various functions of endings the films are divided into four critical categories the Closed Text film typical of classical works the Open Story films the Open Discourse film and the Open Text film which struggles to defy story resolution Detailed textual analysis of sample films reveal how all of the devices of filmic narration from mise en scene to soundtracks direct a viewer s perception comprehension and interpretation of closure in films Among the sample films that are featured as test cases for studying endings are The Quiet Man Ford 1950 The 400 Blows Truffaut 1959 Weekend Godard 1967 Tout va bien Godard 1972 and Earth Dovzhenko 1930 To round out his informative study of endings in films Neupert also examines a host of diverse titles including Do the Right Thing Lee 1989 Open City Rossellini 1945 and The Graduate Nichols 1967
